GAMES PEOPLE PLAY . . . ANALOGY: ACTIVITIES . . . WHAT DO YOU DO WHEN YOU'VE NOTHING TO DO?

"stay out all night and don't know how you work all day." "games people play now," football, basketball, or maybe you work or study; "you gotta get away, gotta get away, don't know where to go." you become accustomed to the same set of activities. the same friends, and the ho hum of days in and days out. wasted hours are so familiar when you're no longer together. "you spend all day thinking just of her. nothings the same when you're lonely, "you take your time 'cause you feel so all alone." you try to forget her but what can you do. "when will we learn, memories get in the way." other people you try to blame, "what they should do is keep me feeling blue." you're about to give up, football is out; studying you hung up when school started, and there's nothing for you to do! her memory lingers, you try to hide the pain. "you hear funny sounds, take a look around smiling as she came, calling out my name." she's come back. your memories full of hurt are now forgotten. we're together now, a team, ready for the worst. we compete and we make it through many a trial and tribulation. "i know where to go, we'll take it slow and i guess we'll call it a day." "been down to long; right, wrong, i just can't take it, i spend all day thinking just of you."

FEELING STRONGER EVERYDAY . . . ANALOGY: PROGRESS . . . CAN WE MAKE IT?

"i do believe in you and i know you believe in me" those words have helped me to progress and make myself the best person i can be. i have progressed not just to being a senior but to the extent that i can honestly say "i do believe i'm feeling stronger everyday". "and now the time has come" not for us to give up, but for us to go on. to prove to ourselves that "we're not getting older, we're getting better." we realize we must go on, we know "that you would have wanted it this way." some of us will go on to better ourselves mentally, some of us won't. we shall take each day as it comes, not as we wish it to be. we have love for our school, our friends and our ability. and now the time has come for each of us to go our own way, to "progress" and ready ourselves for the future that awaits us. "and knowing that you would have wanted it this way, i do believe i'm feeling stronger everyday."

DAY BY DAY . . . ANALOGY: ROUTINE WHAT IS SYMMETRY?
we learned to live each day as it came Day by Day . . .
each day we learned more about ourselves, and others.
Day by Day . . .
sharing our thoughts, our homework, our tennis shoes
Day by Day . . .
remember running from the gym to spanish class, in the rain, and worrying about problems that, as we look back, weren't really that bad. we learned to meet our responsibilities and cope with life's disappointments.
Day by Day . . .

looking back on all the good times, and bad, i know that my life could never have been the same without the "routine" that i learned to love . . .

BE TRUE TO YOUR SCHOOL . . . . ANALOGY: SPIRIT . . . . WHO'S THE BEST?
enthusiastic, energetic, lively, vivatious, and full of pride am i. i have spirit. spirit is the will of a football player to win, even in the closing minutes of a game, the never-ending cheering of a cheerleader the numbers of members in the pep-club, the lone sophomore who stands to cheer at a pep assembly and letting the "blue and gold" remain on top. spirit is when someone says,
"i got a letter on my sweater i wear it out in front." i wear it out front, because i have spirit.
"come tonight, we'll all be ready for the game and we'll be ready to fight." we are ready to fight to prove we're no. 1." when some loud bragger tries to put me down and says his school is great, i tell him right away, "well what's the matter buddy, ain't you heard of my school? it's no. 1 in the state!" i say this with confidence because i am true to my school.
"be true to your school, just like you would to your girl, be true to your school, let your colors fly."

HOLD YOUR HEAD UP . . . ANALOGY: PRIDE . . . HOW DOES IT FEEL?
to be a senior, or even the greatest half-back in this area? you're the star player in the last game of the season. you lose not only the most important game of the season, but also your pride. "and if it's bad, don't let it get you down. you can take it." to break your leg or arm at the beginning of the basketball or volley ball season? you can't even function properly let alone participate in the game. you feel like crawling in a hole and hiding. "if it hurts, don't let them see you cry, you can make it." "hole your head up" never give in, keep your pride, because in the end you will!
to get the chills because you think everyone's staring at you. you feel awkward, insecure, maybe even hurt. you want to come alive; just to stare back at them, shout at them, maybe even hurt them. but you remember that you have pride in not only yourself, but also your friends. you say, "let them stare just let them run their eyes on your movements. let them shout, don't let it change a thing that you are doing." you refuse to loose hope. you have pride, and this will enable you to do anything. "hold you head up, hold your head high."

I GOT A NAME . . . ANALOGY: IDENTITY . . . WHO ARE YOU?
i am an individual, a separate being from any other . . . unique in many ways, similar in others . . . i am me . . . searching for myself i am "like the pine trees linin' the windin' road . . . i got a name" in other words, an inborn identity passed down through many generations "but i'm livin' the dreams that they kept hid" . . . i never stop being myself . . . i am . . . a "jock"
. . . an artist . . . "his" friend . . . i've got brown hair and green eyes, or even green hair and brown eyes? (as AMBUSH would say, "that's one more interesting thing about me") i am myself with no real desire to change . . . well, nothing major anyway . . . "i've got a song and i carry it with me and i sing it loud" "this is my cry and i'll toot my horn as loudly as i want or as softly as i want so long as the music is mine . . . if you would like to sing along, i'll share the notes . . . "i know i could share it if you want me to, if you're goin' my way i'll go with you" . . . wherever we go, whatever we do . . . we must remember that we are who we are, even if "it gets us nowhere, let's go there proud" . . . "movin' me down the highway, rollin' me down the highway movin' ahead so life won't pass me by"

FEELINGS . . . ANALOGY . . . EMOTIONS WHAT DO I FEEL?
"teardrops rolling down on my face," when i feel the emptiness of last minute good-byes. "feelings nothing more than feeling, trying to forget my feeling of love," you play it cool, like not seeing your friends, means nothing to you, you tell your friends "that you'll never come again," not to this school, because deep down inside you are memories of friends. the flutter in my stomach while we approached the homecoming queens game. your usher goes to the wrong house when he's coming for you. "he approaches you with a "i wish i never met you girl" and you want to break down and cry you know he's kidding but your uptight. experiencing the last concert you'll be in, as the notes suddenly fade so do the "feelings" your parents experience when they realize their children are singing the solos.
for all my life we'll remember the feelings of gratitude that are launched inside of us.
"feelings, all my life i'll feel i wish i'd never met you you'll never come again."

ACTIVITIES

"Wanna buy a tag?," became the most natural of our phrases. Every week during football season we decended upon our friends, our friends' friends, and their friends, exclaiming . . . "but they're only fifteen cents!" And each week our "friends" faithfully bought one.

Not only did selling tags become part of our everyday lives, but so did Sue's call of, "practice again tomorrow!" But it wasn't at all just wasted energy, at cheer camp we won the "coveted" Spirit Stick.

We worked hard so our spirit would catch on with the kids at school. In fact, sometimes we were a little too spirited, like the time we held practice at Janie's house and Mrs. Long "accidently" fell into the pond.

But all of it . . . selling tags, painting signs, "gonna-getcha," the "jig" during Go Bananas, cramming lunch to sell tickets, and Janice's and Colleen's inevitable tears at the closing of every game—win or lose—added just a bit more to our past to remember.

COLORGUARD

We started out the summer fairly well organized with weekly rehearsals. As time wore on, however, we were asked by Mr. Botti, "Don't you know where you are yet Colorguard?"

Never will we forget the memorable "circle, circle, circle, circle, up" and the "Windtunnel," and the one who saved the day, "Reggie," with his Entertainer Routine.

We had a couple "Little Talks," but we survived. We even made it through "Strike Up the Band," with B.J. deciding to free fall off the rifles and Mr. Botti thinking we were kidding around.

The biggest disaster was at the Highlands Band Festival when we were suppose to end up on the 50-yard line but ended up on the 45-yard line instead.

We stuck together, learned a little, and most of all, we had fun.

MAJORETTES

Stepping off on the left foot we "indulged" ourselves in hard work at the Indiana summer camp. Despite the camp's shortcomings, we made it through the five days like real Pros. Since all of the janitors and custodians were on strike—well, we had to take matters into our own hands (what a mess). Robbie handled the situation of an over flowing toilet the proper way . . . she ran. And Lori had to clean it up. With revelry at 5:30, cold showers, no toilet paper, and cold food all the way outside into the parking lot where Linda's tenner shoes melted, we made it through the week. There were a few who even took drastic measures to get out of that place—Denise and her starvation kick, oh and of course, Janice getting sunpoisoning. Never will we forget our last night there . . . mopping floors.

Having survived camp, we came home ready to put all that we learned into a routine. "You-all ready . . . pirch, kick, bow."

Highlighting the year was the Buckwheat Festival. The mud was deep, but we splattered through putting on one of our best performances. As for the Buckwheat parade . . . well, just ask Sue.

As for Dixie and Tracey—keep up the good jogging. And Jeanie, don't forget your tights again!

Much has happened to us this year that really brought us together. We've had emotional times and frustrating times, but all times we will remember. Now, the seniors bid farewell.

Middle: Majorette and Colorguard members cheer the Cavs as they wait their halftime performance.

MARCHING BAND

Striving for the "ultimate" in "general effect," the Big K marching band rehearsed diligently while everyone else was basking in the blazing, August sun. The primary glimpse of what our final product would be was exposed at the annual Kennywood parade. We knew the impression we'd make would be positive—even before Anne and Cindie asked Leechburg members if Kiski was good!

After winning what we considered to be the two biggest games of the century—Johnstown and Penn Hills (those people down the road), we were proud of the way we cheered on our "mighty Cavaliers." The "majestic" Green Bay was never a chore, though our hands and lungs were fatigued. Our hearts swelled with pride each time "our guys" came during "Monday Night Rehearsals" to thank us. Cavalier Song never sounded so good as they trekked across the parking lot.

This year held many happy memories . . . "Fun City, West Virginia" was an "exciting" experience. The multi-colored outfits of the "multi-numeral" homecoming queens left us in awe . . . Senior Night with the "floral grove" in the front line being blinded with "Senior Blues" tears . . . and the "precise", Strike Up The Band routine for the Alle-Kiski Festival . . . as Marcus put it, "with a band like this, we can't help but go all the way!"

SYMPHONIC BAND

The "Big K" Symphonic Band of '76, as every past Cavalier band, had the dream of becoming a number one performing group. And we will because we have a director with the same dream, too! Mr. Lamendola's strange mystic powers had made that dream come true! (Along with our skills, of course.)

The individuals in Symphonic Band each have a love for music. What other band would attempt to play a piece like "George Washington Bridge?!" Torn apart it sounds like masses of jumbled notes written in ten different keys, but when completed by our band . . . well, it's a beautiful masterpiece.

We have other honorable mentions for our memories this year. Such as Patti, our star "percussionist." Nobody could play the woodblock because she was absent that day. Or Tony D., the quick change artist on the day of the band pictures. As a whole though, we have no standouts. We are an "outstanding group" of talented musicians and are very "humble" in saying so. May we be the band to be remembered for upholding the outstanding reputation of the past.

Thank you, Mr. Lamendola!!!

CONCERT BAND

"Sit up straight!" "Can't you guys count?" "I wish you guys could play in time!" These were only a few of the famous quotes Mr. Botti used on us everyday.

After Marching Band was finished, Concert Band was formed. Everybody was glad to get out of the cold.

"Oklahoma", "Richard Rogers Review" and the "Second Military Suite" were only a few of the numbers we worked on for the April 2 concert.

We practiced hard and long to perfect our concert. By the end of the year everyone knew we "believed in music".

STAGE BANDS

After working hard, practicing hours and hours, and spending every activity period in seclusion from all forms of life, the Stage Band made a "trial run" performance at Open House. They made their smashing "Broadway Debut" however, not on a Broadway stage, but in our own auditorium at their Tuesday evening performances for the public. The "celebrities" were then sent on an all expense paid three day trip to Moorehead, Kentucky where they again met up with fame and fortune. Of course with Mr. "C" as their director, how could they go wrong? "He only gets grouchy once in awhile—usually he's funny. He's so nice!" All the members of the Big K stage agree that it's worth all the hard work to be such a "smashing" success!

Filled with the "ever popular" Bicentennial spirit, we began our year by "sharing the wealth," or some of our exhuberant exhuberance.

Two days after school began, we were ready for a fantastic pep assembly. Where it would be held—no one knew—there were no bleachers available for the "athletic supporters" to sit upon. The ingenious result—our small "band of merriment" marched through the halls belting out our own Cavalier Song.

After the bleachers were installed, we helped to parade participants into the gymnasium by "drumming" out the "Walking Beat." The drummers and trombonists along with the rest of us really "got into" the cheers—like "Go Bananas" and "That's the Way We Like It."

With the arousement of our fused voices and hand-clapping and most of all—our spirit, we truly "went Bananas" and ironically enough "That is the Way We Like it!"

Not only did we warm up to the spirited hee-hee-haw-haw-haw-haw-haws, but we also warmed up to each other. Fused by our love of music, we were determined to "know we're the best we could be."

Aiming for a super-spectacular spring concert, we worked diligently around the clock to improve our tone and quality.

With the expertise of the greatest directors in the world, Mr. Wolfgang and Mr. McClelland, we entertained our audience the very best way we knew—with CLASS!

MIXED CHORUS

Throughout our many practices and second period rehearsals we learned the true meaning of precision. To us skill was "the ability to make it through a whole song without Mr. Wolfgang stopping us." Many last minute lectures helped in perfecting our combined voices put out some really "far-out tunes."

A great majority of us had never sang in a "real-live" concert before, and shaking knees and migrane headaches came on us prior to the Spring Concert. Our effort of the past months, however, showed through. We did prove ourselves.

Sure, we were called "the little ones," but we knew that our musical talent had advanced. We were not only approaching the opportunity to be part of Concert Choir, but also to show our director that we really could sing with the specific quality he so often pleaded for.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

CONCERT CHOIR

Through a great deal of work, we finally reached our destiny, Concert Choir. For some of us we realized what it meant to be referred to as Mr. McClelland's "pride and joy." We'll never forget practicing "Ave Maria" until we had enough confidence in oursleves to "stop in" and get tested.

We loved the idea of having our own hall to loaf in and will never forget the excitement on the Juniors' faces when they finally got to wear the blue tie on their robes instead of the white one. Every morning, "our gang" watched the members of the Mixed Chorus scurry straight to class. Laughingly, we remember when the shoe was on the other foot.

We looked forward to the Spring Concert so we could show not only the audience, but, also, Mr. McClelland that he could be proud of us. We knew all year that we could do it, but we were waiting for the right time. The most enjoyable moment of all of our lives was proving this at the Spring Concert, while we sang our hearts out.

GIRLS' OCTET AND THE SPIRIT OF UNCLE JOHN

One of the highlights of this year's Christmas Concert was the Girls' Octet Performance. Every day prior to the concert could be heard the delightful tune of "Rockin' Around the Christmas Tree," or the stamping of feet to learn the dance routine. But, of course, on the night of the concert everything came together with Mr. McClelland as Santa Claus to a "shy" Denise Moran.

We provided many extracurricular activities as did "The Spirit of Uncle John" named after that great guy himself. We, like the octet, provide many outside services. We have entertained at many community functions. We were well enjoyed by all. This year we have many memories of our special year as the "Spirit of Uncle John."

JAZZ-ROCK ENSEMBLE

We sang our way into the hearts of millions, again, this year. (Well maybe not millions). Among the highlights of this year was performing in the Jazz-Rock and in the Spring Concert. Our rendition of "Who Loves You" and "The Way We Were" will remain a favorite forever. Those awfully early activity period rehearsals really paid off in the end. Of course with "TD" and "ta-ta" there how could we fail?!

We also sang outside the school in various places and were well received there, also. But we were the ones who tried out and were selected to be a member of one of the select group within the choir—our long-awaited goal.

And now "We know we're the best we can be"—almost.

SOPH. SPANISH CLUB

This year, the members of the Sophomore Spanish Club, together with the help of sponsor, Miss DelVecchio, really went all-out to sponsor a fantastic dance marathon for the benefit of the Children at Children's Hospital. It was alot of work—but alot of fun for all of us who collected pledges, sold tickets and stamped hand after hand, continuously for fourteen long hours. All through the marathon we tended to forget about the money being made, because we had all been swept from our feet by the hustle and bustle of the Christmas season. The Sophomore Spanish Club, along with the help of the Spanish Club, Tri-Hi-Y, NHS, and many others helped to make it a Christmas Dream Come True for all the Children at Children's Hospital . . .

The students at Kiski High
Would like to give a sigh
To tell Jack Bogut
That we broke it,
Our annual high to the sky.

The money we got went into the slots
Of boxes, cans, and pots.
The basketball game
And candy canes
Helped add to the total alot.

But the biggest success
Was the marathon dance
Which made us prance and holler
And made our total sum of $2,174.

(Vickie Chemelli)

As for the dancers in the marathon, there was alot of limping and moaning in the halls for the next week—but if you would have asked any of them about it, they would have been willing to do it all over again!

LIBRARY CLUB

Being the people "Behind the Scenes" we weren't contininuously praised for our work-but we did keep the library running very smoothly.

Our newly adopted home soon became very welcoming and offered most everything including our favorite radio station as long as it wasn't "too loud!"

As we clawed our way out of filmstrips, magazine request slips and overdue book notices we found a lot of satisfaction gained in keeping the library's reputation of being there when you need it, both night and day.

JUNIOR ACHIEVEMENT

We were industrial student corporations who wanted to be recognized as the business leaders of tomorrow. JA gave us the opportunity to organize and operate our businesses.

Throughout the year we competed for contests, scholarships and travelships. For first year achievers, it was struggling, studying and hoping. (Right Mark?) For third year achievers, however, this was just another part of learning and growing.

Our economic motive was profit. We had bonuses and recognition to strive for. Kent was an ordinary, first-year achiever. UNTIL . . . the best salesman contest. What a winner!!

And the fun Lori and Gary had at the JAMCO and NAJAC Conferences with 1,300 other achievers from throughout the world with the "X" rated pictures they took of a Pittsburgher and Lori which they blew up and sold for a product!

We were 130 Kiski Achievers—learning and relearning, having fun at our annual dances, studying, applying for scholarships, meeting new people, becoming the tycoons of tomorrow.

Some people may still be wondering what kind of club this is. That's one of the reasons for the "mass confusion" the beginning of this year. Some thought it was a geological rock club. "The only rocks in the club, though, are the kind that rattle in some of the members heads," according to Mr. Szymczak, the club's sponsor. The club even has a few "fossils."

But this rock club is a music club. One objective was for the students to be exposed to different types of music besides rock alone. They started the year by listening to Mr. Szymczak's old records from the fifties and sixties. But the idea was not to sit around every meeting pretending to listen to music. This year's group under Terri's guidance had more interest than last year's.

Unfortunately so many students wanted to join that it had to be limited to seniors only. Even at that there still were approximately eighty-four members.

WRESTLING CLUB AND WRESTLERETTES

Being that the Wrestling Club was a brand new club, there was no danger of falling into the same old habits, though it also meant we had nothing to fall back on. But with our officers leading the way, somehow we made it through all our projects and meetings.

Our meetings certainly had their own uniqueness. Often stemming from the style of our president, Laurie Gaydos. But beside their uniqueness, there was also alot of accomplishment, because our club wasn't just a name, it was the people in it.

We were excited about practically everything and always coming up with all kinds of ideas. Some were fantastic and just what we were looking for; others were just plain WILD. But with Mr. Roberto and Mr. Richie to advise us how could we go wrong?

Well first of all . . .

But we did behave a little when we were busy helping the Wrestlerettes paint signs. Besides running the sign production, the Wrestleretts' schedule was filled with making tags, "pinning" the players, and most important of all, leading the club in cheers at the matches, although it didn't always go quite so smoothly.

We had a blast being Kiski Area's Wrestling Club, but we also fulfilled our purpose: supporting and promoting the fantastic KA Wrestlers.

Y.T.S.C.

A small group that has a big responsibility—that's us! The goal for this public service organization is to cooperate with the community on two projects a year, such as bicycle inspection, with the intention of helping make the public more conscious of safe-driving habits.

This year during the Christmas season, we placed "DRIVE SAFELY DURING THE HOLIDAYS" stickers on all the cars in the school parking lot. At the annual open house, car trash bags, and pamphlets on driving safely and defensively were distributed.

Another "accomplishment"—(?)—of the year was winning the guys' division of the pie-eating contest. We sponsored the winner . . . Angelo Fasano.

Throughout our entire campaign for safety we hoped to have promoted this in our own lives as well as those around us. Let's all "Save a life! Pass it on!"

SKI CLUB

For a while, we were the club who wasn't a club. Sure, we paid dues and had fund raisers and planned trips, but we lacked an important element—an advisor. Our spirits somewhat dampened by the loss of our "expert"—Mr. Hunt—we were still determined to make this year successful. Through Eric's pleading (begging and crying), we finally acquired Miss Jenks as the new ski club sponsor.

Our first activity was the "bakesale" to beat all bakesales. We hold the school record—six people baked! Next came $5.00 dues time, and the familiar announcement by Linda, "Anyone who doesn't pay their $5.00 dues before Nov. 18 will be dropped from the club roster!"

All in all, we succeeded, and our year turned out to be the best (Or so we thought). Whether in school or on the slopes, we really exemplified Kiski's "Spirit of '76!"

N.H.S.

Receiving passes with Mr. Frederick's signature on it gave some of us quite a scare last spring. However, after a nervous trek to the lower cafeteria, it dawned on us that we were not to be reprimanded (for who knew what), but we were receiving the prestigeous honor of induction into the National Honor Society.

For our "trial run" we peddled our pies to every relative we could round up in order to meet our quota. It would be impossible to forget the mass confusion at "pick-up time"—everyone was searching for their "long lost chocolate meringue." Finally organized, we elected our capable officers, however, Eddie's attempts to "bark out orders (?)" were a bit comical.

We were the "brains" of the school, however, we still had a lot to learn. For instance, we worked long and hard on the mathematical equation of how to fit 800 people into a cafeteria with a 500 person capacity. And how many bees can fit into a vacuum sweeper at a car wash. And the rate by which a car may be washed before 50 others join the line. We wash cars rather efficiently except for some minor problems like putting the wrong mats into Mr. Szymczak's car.

Being in NHS was more than just status, it was a learning experience. It was fun . . . rinsing cars before they've been washed . . . "coming through" with the hot chocolate (finally) at the "record" coffee-houses, and for some lucky students it meant a N.H.S. Scholarship. It meant being with "friends" and having "friendship" in common.

STUDENT SECRETARIES

Student secretaries—the ones who help keep the school running smoothly by typing up dittos, tests, and organizing work sheets for teachers. Working in cooperation with the teachers, the girls get excellent training and learn to handle the responsibilities of being a secretary. They also get to do alot of other "different" kinds of jobs. What the different jobs are goes untold—as one secretary said, "We'd tell you but you couldn't print them anyway." The "Student Secretaries" as they are called, really aren't your average group of people. With secretaries that have names like "Pete" Penta, "Smitty," "Faithwire" and "Kenzivittes"—well what can you say? Keep typin' girls and good luck teachers!

TYPING CLUB

You may be one of the many people that have asked Michelle Minarcin and other members of the typing club this question, "What do you do in a typing club?" Of course they type, but they have fun typing. They do it their own way.

Michelle, the club president, says that they had contests such as taking minute writings and awarding candy to the winner. Another favorite typing game was holding "football tournaments".

Members of the club enjoyed having parties and decorating the room for holidays. They had a problem with the Christmas decorations this year. The Christmas trees refused to stand up!

The only requirement for joining the typing club is knowing how to type and wanting to have fun doing so.

VARSITY CLUB

We started out the year planning for the All-Sports Banquet with other activities following.

Candy and candles were sold to raise money for varsity jackets. Getting our jackets only futher showed the pride we had for the Big K.

Service to the school was big on our list of activities. Members gave up their time to sell tickets and to help at the different meets.

One of our goals was the revision of our constitution which was outdated and ineffective for the club this year.

The main purposes decided by the club for its later years were to foster athletics and to determine eligibilty for the jackets awards.

Our major plan for the year was getting out of debt. We felt sure though, that under the leadership of Mr. Dilts, we would put the club on top again, demonstrating the will of our athletes to succeed.

KEY CLUB

Under Danny (who is our president), and Freedline (who is "something") we started out behind. We planned and planned, and finally came up with some ideas.

Our first activity was the showing of "Steeler Highlights". This movie was a showing of the Steelers winning the Super Bowl in 1975. We also discussed the possibility of showing "Movies with the Lil' Rascals" later on.

Ringing bells for the Salvation Army was another event we participated in. Of course, some did it and some didn't.

With the money earned we planned on attending sports events. Hockey games and baseball games were on the list of favorites. But the biggest bonus of being in the club, was going out to eat a lot.

In the years ahead though, we hoped that no one would forget the nicknames (Stedrak—the "Spear") and the two minute meetings. These are what made us "The Key Club".

TRI-HI-Y

This year was a prosperous year for those of us who belonged to the Tri-Hi-Y. We hardly had time to breath between making decorated lollipops for elementary children, bake sales and bringing in canned goods. But it was worth all the time and expense.

Our drive for Children's Hospital was quite rewarding not only for those who gave money but for us too. None of us will ever forget the benefit basketball game. It was alot of fun and alot of laughs. That is one of the reasons we sponsored it.

Everything we did, bringing in cookies, selling lamps or whatever, we received points. However, none of us thought about those points. It was just a kindhearted effort to make others, less fortunate than us, happy.

And then the end of the year banquet. We raised money all year to have this. Those who had earned the most points received awards. All and all it was a good year for all of us who were active.

MAGIC CLUB

We said the magic word and puff! a frog came out of the hat? Oh, well, back to the drawing board.

This was a common scene at the Magic Club meetings. We really needed practice before we could declare ourselves "professionals."

We even asked real magicians to come in and show us a few tricks. One speaker did a trick using Mr. Israel's tie. After he cut the tie into about fifteen pieces, he gift wrapped it. We could see that Mr. Israel was trying not to cry as he took the package. When he opened it though, he smiled and held up the tie in one piece again. Unfortunately when we tried it at home the tie stayed in fifteen pieces and we were grounded for quite a while.

We may never become as famous as Houdini, but at least we can fascinate our friends for a change.

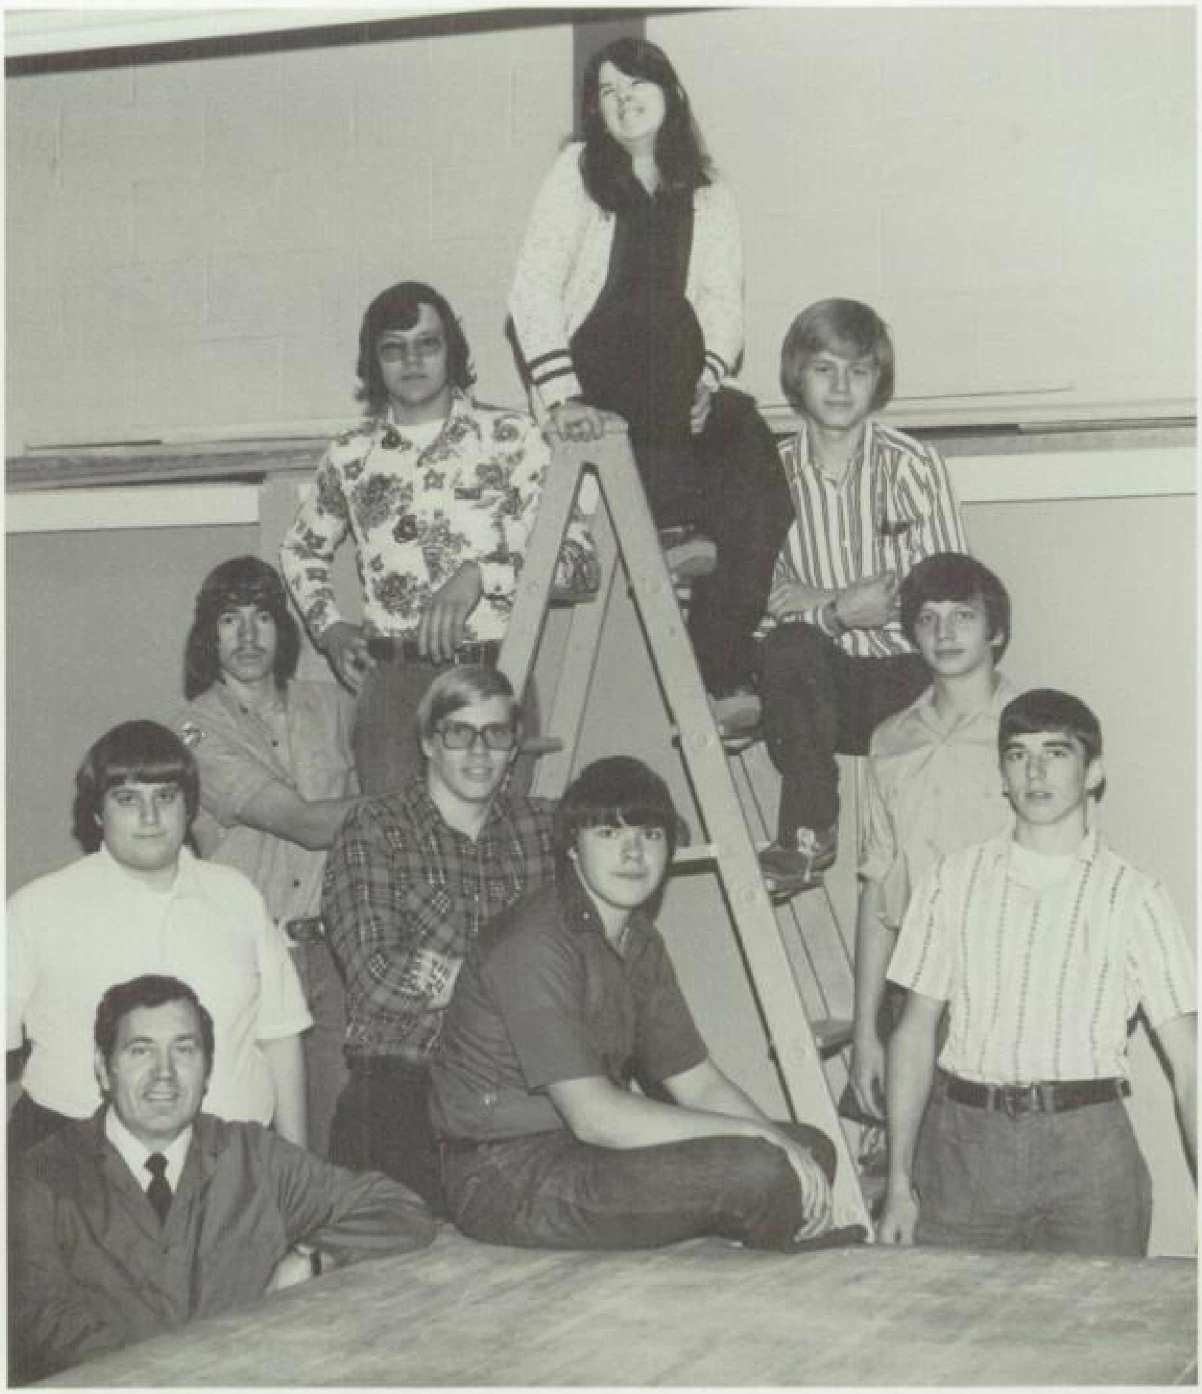
STAGE CREW

We started this year out with a rather unique experience. We, the stage crew, had a girl in our club, not just any girl, but Barb was the only girl in Kiski's history that was in wood shop and stage crew.

Under the supervision of not only Mr. Tarosky but also "Toots" we realized the tremendous record we set when we completed four toothbrush holders in one day.

Throughout the year we not only kept the stage in tip top shape but we also repaired and refinished risers. We made shelves for the observatory. We were not just a bunch of nails and hammers, we were the only club whose members walked around with sawdust covering their jeans. One might say we have a very important button—a red button. It might not work, but it is still very important to us.



Clockwise From Top: Barb Walsh, Tim Law, Tom Filo, Ray Bell, Randy Spencer, Mr. Tarosky, Tom Scanga, David Law, Dave Shumaker, Henry Lantelme.

SAM

Under the leadership of Mr. "Scheff" this years SAM club provided to be very efficient. With the help of his "pinwheel of power" our president Tad showed definite leadership qualities. Other members of SAM could be found in the "loft"—SAM's secret hideout or in homeroom 413. Other members can be scattered about the stage or near the reversed lightbulb, which is a symbol of SAM.

We do many things that people aren't aware of. We are the ones who provide the lights for an assembly or musical program, the play or any other stage production. We schedule the stage for each assembly so that there isn't two things going on at the same time. Our secretaries are kept busy by the many services that SAM provides.

With the help of all our experienced leaders and Mr. "Scheff" this years SAM club has to be one of the very best.

NEEDLECRAFT CLUB

Congratulations! Needlecraft Club finally accomplished something. We settled down long enough to elect officers. One thing for sure, our club has its own personality.

The Needlecraft Club is different from most other clubs because it doesn't have any big goals in mind other than teaching Dorothy Mae to knit and show Ellie Sue how to do needlepoint. The idea is more just to get together to learn from each other, and enjoy doing needlecraft with friends.

The biggest drawback of our Needlecraft Club is that it doesn't seem to appeal to members of the opposite sex. Well, it really isn't important who's in your club, but what you do in it. Some of our new members may have been a little disappointed when they found out that needlepoint is not the art of making sutures with a string of catgut or nylon. But knitting, crocheting, doing needlepoint and embroidery is even better. No one objects when one tries to show off his work.

F.H.A.

"We would like to become better homemakers," stated the members of FHA. Each looked ahead to the day when they would all have their own home to make care of.

As we prepared for that day, sewing and cooking were the two major events of the year. Sewing projects, dresses, jackets, pants, and other clothes were worked on the first half of the year. Cooking came next. Ordinary, exotic, and customary dishes, and pies and pastries fell prey to our culinary talents. Not everything was eaten, but we had fun trying to make it.

Two of our other activities were Christmas carolling at the Vandergrift highrise and selling jewelry for a money-making project. Our voices weren't all together but the audience appreciated our efforts. The money from jewelry sales helped alot too. All in all we had a productive year.

Looking back in the years ahead, FHA will be remembered as the guide we needed to start us on the road to a successful home.

COIN CLUB

Although we didn't have many members, we got to spend that much more time on business instead of trying to control our members. Wanting to make our collections complete we kept our eyes peeled. Not a coin passed before our eyes unnoticed. (Well, maybe just a couple.)

As the year progressed we swapped extras and our collections grew. But most of all, we got to know each other more and we had a lot of fun.

ERN BIOLOGY

DRAFTING CLUB

The office always wondered why Mr. George kept asking for more and more pencils every nine weeks. The answer was simple and right under their noses all the time. It was the Drafting Club. We used all those pencils for our graphical drawing—the erasers were what really wore out!

Our meetings consisted of sign making among other things. Signs were probably the most important part of our lives. Many people wouldn't have known how to get out of the building during a fire drill without our signs. Visitors would have a time wandering all over the building looking for the gym without our signs. Nobody would have known when Cavalier games were scheduled and who the great athletes were without us.

Not all our time was spent making signs though. We took a field trip to "Falling Waters" in the beginning of the year and made a slide presentation. We don't, however, think we'll ever get an Emmy for that one!

Another event we planned was a trip to Western Pa. Arts Fair. A few of our exhibits were entered and we all hoped to win.

We may never have planned great buildings, but as we sat there trying, we thought of the days our dreams would perhaps become realities.

AV CLUB

"Dan, we lost a projector!" seems to be a familiar cry around the A.V. room. Although our A.V. Club is efficient, occasionally an accident does happen, like the time Metzler dropped the T.V.

The A.V. Club subscribes to the NOW movement-having added a new female member. Of course there is still our other female member, "Happy Housewife Debbie," who runs around cleaning up the joint. The major achievement of this year's A.V. Club was obtaining their own personal door.

Few clubs can boast of part-time job opportunities for its membership, but the A.V. Club is proud of their enterprising young men: Duck, Peterson, and Dirkmaat who videotape for Liberty Cable T.V.

"We provide many different kinds of services like videotaping sports events, providing visual aids and helping with the public address system. We offer a service without which our teachers would be at a loss," say members of the A.V. Club. Laughingly they remember, however, the time that Dezutti was supposed to film the volleyball game and the camera broke.

HEALTH CAREERS

"From the halls of Citizen's General to the shores of P.A.R.C.S. . . ." the volunteer work as candy stripers and aids marched on.

Those Saturdays working with the retarded children in the gym and organizing magazines and materials to send to the hospital wards and waiting rooms helped us realize how good reaching out towards others felt.

We put alot of satisfying hours into our work and for those who worked the hardest and showed the greatest response and concern we awarded scholarships. Thereby, they can move onward and make their health career more of a reality.

We closed the year with a club banquet so we could all unite and discover how wonderful a year we really made for ourselves.

It's hard to believe Mr. Hartley sponsors a "serious" club. Perhaps he's teaching the future teachers to be like him. (Now that's serious!)

The beginning of the year was spent recruiting members to make the club worthwhile.

Richard Franzi and the rest of the group helped the junior high kids this year by tutoring. Each member of the club teaches the subject they feel best qualified to teach.

The group got involved in bake sales and different activities so they would have enough money for the FTA "fabulous" banquet at the end of the year.

Maybe in six or seven years there will be a bunch of little Mr. Hartleys in Kiski Sr. High! (serious?)

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

We weren't the biggest club but we were definitely the happiest. We were called the "Merry Three." Our year started out slow because everytime we were supposed to have a meeting it managed to get canceled but eventually we got the ball rolling.

Our first meetings began with reading "page upon page" of material to learn everything there ever was to know about photography and developing pictures. After another couple of canceled meetings we began our newest project, developing pictures. After a few mistakes and a couple of rolls of ruined film, we learned the fine art of developing film.

We managed to have a real good time this year as the "Merry Three" and members of Mr. Yajko's Photography Club.

Taking our turns by "Movin on" we finally reached a some what idea of who our best players were. We were the chess club, different because our members never had to worry about sitting out our matches. All of us did compete in one way or another.

We'll never forget the time Dadamo really got creamed. Not in a chess match, but in a pie. He ate his way out of the shell and he noticed that in the end he came out a winner. One of the several that did have an upset stomach.

With the brains and the stamina of "Tiny Tarosky" we learned that you either play it cool, or something terrible will happen to you. Mr. Ves. will "go bananas" all over you. Won't he Tiny!

This year began better than last. We had a room to meet in and thirty members to start us on the right track.

We decided that every month one or two of us would present a project about math. Reports, explanations, and discussions were held about interesting and unusual topics. Fortunately we didn't talk about the material in class which would have started arguments about grading and other things.

We sold Cavalier pens for our money making project—so we could pay for our picnic in May.

Our major activity this year was tutoring other students. Many of these students came to us for help in Algebra, Geometry, Trig, and other courses. We tried to help them and felt really great when our "students" showed better grades.

Some of us may become nuclear physicists and others may never become anything concerned with much math, but we'll remember, though, the help we gave and the facts we learned.

F.B.L.A.

Bribery and excitement were the major thing our year consisted of. We started out with an outstanding candle sale. Continually we asked our "so-called friends" to contribute faithfully.

Not only was it Mrs. Contie that shared her strength and guidance with us, but also "Guke" and "Soot" did too. They pleaded us to go along with not only the Turkey Raffle and the opportunity to be "Miss FBLA", but also to go Christmas Caroling. After this experience we felt like taking on the name "Frozen Business Leaders of America."

We clung together with faith in every member so we could finish this year successfully. We looked forward to the spring Regional Competition so we all could compete in typing, shorthand, accounting and public speaking.

We tried to reassure everyone in the area to believe in us, because we were the young leaders. We tried our best to become invalued in our area because we held tomorrow in our hands.

ROCKET CLUB

Although we didn't take a trip to the moon, our year lifted off to a good start occupying room 313 for our launching pad. With the help of Mr. Woitas our dedicated sponsor we explored into and out of the world of rockets, successfully launching our rockets into big blue, sunny, rainy, cloudy, and snowy skies.

Now we will use our newly acquired knowledge in the years to come—remembering when we were just "amateurs".

ASTRONOMY CLUB

With our eyes turned toward the total eclipse of the moon, our club activities got underway. Te began with a bakesale to raise money for equipment for our "professional" observatory. Through the exchanges of telescopes and Tim's unending complaints, we managed to plan our trip to Buhl Planetarium.

Having the only "real" observatory in the area made us proud and it came in handy for our many nightime observations. We ended our exploration of the sky with a "starlight" party; now we move onward to bigger and better skies.

EL CIRCULO ESPANOL

With Wayne's brainstorms for making a fortune, we began our first money making project by selling 800 tacos in Avonmore and began our year earlier than everyone else. Then came the first day of the club program. We chose a board of directors made up of all girls, with the two Tracys' as our leaders. We brought the Spirit to the Big "K"! At Halloween, the "Great Pumpkin" came to Kiski to promote our Halloween treats and donated a percentage to UNICEF. Then, at Christmas Santa Claus helped in selling our stockings filled with delicious goodies. We were entertained frequently by guest speakers at our biweekly meetings. With the money we had accumulated we went to see a play in Pittsburgh, "Man of La Mancha". We planned a successful Spanish night and a successful year, Por que, "Somos el espiritu de '76"

LE CIRCLE FRANCAIS

Scheduling two meetings a month, we were determined to make the year a double success. The first meeting was a surprise in itself twenty-five members! Plus, we became somewhat liberated with the membership of four boys. Emilia was elected president, but luckily she didn't adopt any traits of Charles DeGualle because there were more than enough Jean d' Arcs among us. To raise d'argent, we held bakesales and sold Kiski pins. John even suggested promoting "Last Tango in Paris" as a possible assembly if enough students bought pins. For our annual dinner, Imperial Margarine was a must. If great French chefs were satisfied with it, we figured we would give it a try. The French IV-ers learned a new language other than francais. It was Phonetics. We appropriately turned our noses up at the pesty nasal sounds, but we tried to be as cute and innocent as Le Petit Prince throughout the year, even grande personne Madame Baun.

AFRO-AMERICAN CLUB

We were a group of individuals different in many ways but the same in one. We were "cool dudes" trying to learn what we should do to help our community. We didn't have to prove anything to ourselves or to our friends. We were a family and treated all men and women like brothers and sisters. Sometimes we just sat around and "rapped" but other times we freaked out over Dumpy and her humor that never stopped.

Under Mr. Pipkins' leadership, we learned the true meaning of soul. We had an inner ability to cope with our friends and the problems that we, as students, faced. We became close friends with our peers and our superiors. Throughout this special year, our aim—and great accomplishment—was the gathering of new members to our fabulous "Soul Train."

STUDENT COUNCIL

Under the leadership of our president, Leo Homzuk, we began the year right. We discussed cafeteria problems.

Mr. Toncini gave us his time and we gave him our suggestions. Finally both sides worked out a reasonable solution. Everyone was happy for a change.

A few other discussions we had were on smoking and drinking. We talked over the possibility of a student lounge.

We sold candy and crackers to raise money for various projects.

We all knew we were the only student government in the school. We remembered that and worked as hard as we could to give students their rights. The Student Council was there to care. And our peers knew it—they cared, too.

PYCCKU KLYD

Mr. Egelsky sponsors a very regular club. The members meet regularly, and they don't bother with fund-raising projects. They know how to have fun without money.

The club celebrated Christmas by getting together and sampling Russian-style foods. No reports on attacks of indigestion ever circulated. The 75-76 club must have had some good chefs!

DEUTSCH KLUB

Mr. Pipkins and we as members of the German Club worked hard this year trying to raise money. We are one foreign language club that planned to visit the country we learned about. If things worked out (money and otherwise) we would have paid Germany a call this summer. It would've been an exciting and memorable experience for everyone!

In preparation for the hopeful trip, we went out to eat in order to obtain some idea of what it is in store for us in "Deutschland." Unfortunately, the restuarant we chose did not serve any German food, so we had to settle for Italian-style goodies instead! (Maybe, we'll go to Italy?).

CAMPUS BUSINESS

With George and Rich as our "fearless leaders," we plunged into the year with absolutely no apprehension(?). However, we were soon to find ourselves busy trying to raise money to pay for "that thing the production staff is trying to put out".

Our first accomplishment was selling ads. Sure we were doing our best, we returned to the school proud of our accomplishments, even if it did take until November to get all the ads finalized.

Next, we tried our hands at baking. Weekly bakesales became routine and we roamed the halls trying to peddle cupcakes and cookies. Unfortunately, everyone wanted the donuts we had saved for the teachers. Mr. McDermott and Mrs. Art were especially upset when they were told that their cinnamon or maple twist was "attacked" by students. Even worse was telling Mr. Brozovich there were no donuts left! In spite of all these incidents, the best had to be the time Crissi left Jackie's car lights on after delivering the 48 doz. baked goods!

Another of our "jobs" was to sell those fantastic mugs. Certain that we had hit everyone in the school, we went back to Room 202. "but Mrs. Pipman, I just can't sell anymore". Five minutes later, we trudged back around the halls with mugs in our hands!

We were also public relations people. We settled a thousand little problems between students about the yearbooks, and considered ourselves "the good guys". Meanwhile, we created another two thousand problems among ourselves.

It's a wonder how, with all these "achievements", we ever found time to sell yearbooks. We did, however, accomplish this, and at the end of the year at our banquet, we were proud of ourselves for "a job well done".

CAMPUS

To the staff,

What can we say about a group of fine people (yes, you) which has became more or less a "second family." Nothing... Nothing bad that is! When we sat down to write this (with "flair + pizazz") the only way we could tell you just what this year meant to us, was to tell you—individually.

Lori - You've got to be dedicated to take home and type the entire Senior Index

Patty - We've never had so much fun waiting for you to come up with a different typographical error for the "PATTY DEPAUL HALL OF FAME."

Mark - the only person we know who wanted to be president of his own fan club.

Laurie - who else would want to spend 3 hours writing "Secretaries + Guidance."

Dan, Bruce + Larry - your friendly neighborhood "shutter flickers."

Kathy - "Miss Industrious" who "unintentionally" took a "vacation" during our fourth deadline.

Karen - you took the stereotype of "intelligent" + broke it in two.

Jean - we still haven't figured out why you wanted to do the football pages.

Judy - The next time we go to New Castle we'll let you know.

Pam - We will to you, the heater (to warm your little "tootsies").

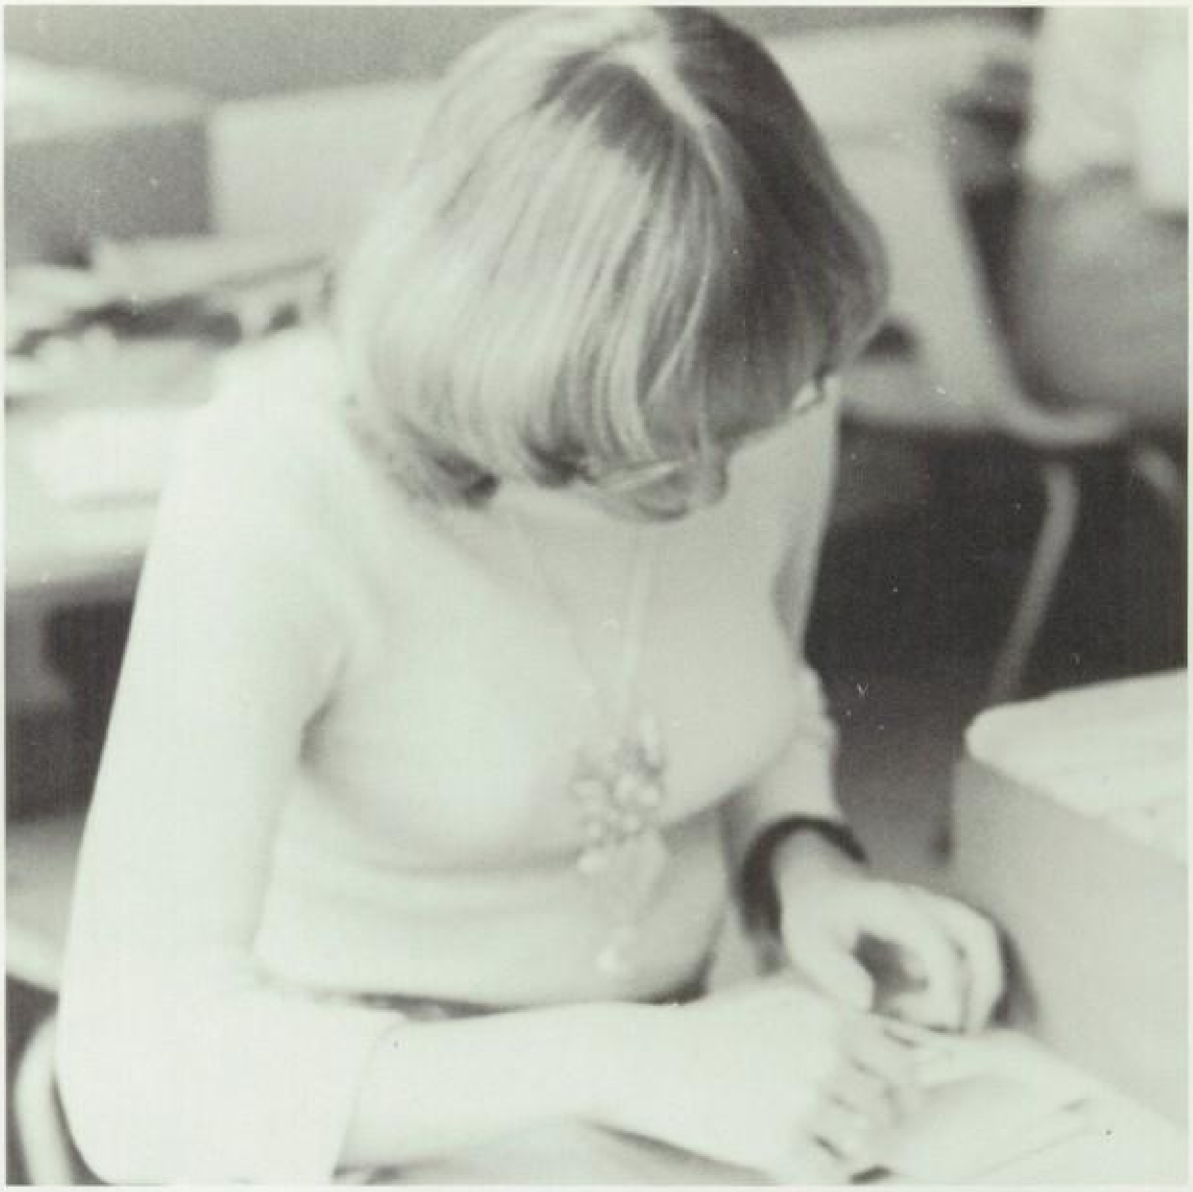
Jenny - a very special friend to us.

Bev - with you around we never had to miss the "latest commercials."

Kathy - you could cheer the darkest clouds on even the rainiest day.

Melanie - Someday (when we're 103) we'd like your opinion of our "dead-line time behavior!"

Linda - Thanks for the "spur-of-the-moment" write-ups.



Cathy McG - "Little Miss Sunshine" It was fun "rowing our boat" with you. Maybe, someday, our "Mission" won't be so "impossible."
& finally,

Mrs Musala - our "tower of strength" - we're happy that we could share your first campus year.

As for us, well, we'll be going now, with the hope that our year doesn't end here. We've worked hard and have accomplished much "Thank You for the memories!"
Sincerely, Dave & Cindie

PEP CLUB

Pep Club began its season with a tremendous amount of spirit and enthusiasm. We really tried to spread spirit through our school. We showed many teams that, "nobody messes with the Big K machine." Because we were "bad" and we knew it. We started out in a real mess—mums, of course, which really boost our spirits. We showed every one that "We Believed" in ourselves as well as our teams. We did have some help at the assemblies, "our ape," We really did "go bananas!" We may have had big mouths but we didn't care, "coz that's the way we like it!"

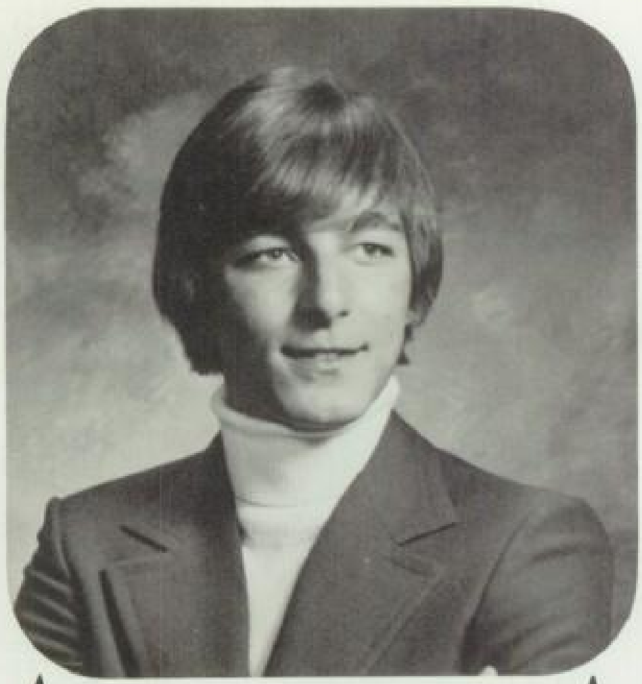
WE ARE THE SPIRIT OF 76



LEO HOMZUK
PRESIDENT

We Are The Spirit of '76.
During this era, that could be a tremendous responsibility.
However, for us, it's no effort at all.
Our Spirit shines like a blazing torch for all to see.
A torch whose light beckons to all who see it.
Asking them to have hope.
For the new generation which bears this iridescence renders forth fresh ideas and represents freedom.
The past years have taught us courage, dignity, understanding, and compassion humor, determination and loyalty.

DANIEL MILES
SECRETARY

ERIC DAVIE
VICE-PRESIDENT

These admirable qualities were not learned from our textbooks, but, just the same, they were taught to us.
By our superiors, teachers our fellow students, our friends, and most importantly, our parents
The Past has given us the essential knowledge with which we are able to mold our future.
But no matter how many years are ahead of us,
The Past; this special era of our fused voices and hopes; shall never be forgotten because . . .

The Big K Machine:

Hey, nobody messes with the Big K Machine . . . the spirited chant thunders through the air warning all to "beware" because Kiski's a-comin' so "lay down and die." Where in society today, doing one's own thing may be the trend, our spirit binds us together because we firmly believe that "there is no I in team." It wasn't another homecoming. It was the 1975 homecoming—our Senior homecoming and "Bernie" Pacuch anxiously awaited the announcement with escort Bobby McDermott expecting to hear any name but her own. Perhaps it was the bright lights or the excitement or the amazement that she had made it to Davis Field at all, but for an instant Bernie appeared to be collapsing while her "perfect" escort applauded. She had to admit however, that Bobby did look sharp—understandably since he had that "extra half hour" to get dressed. Her final thrill of the evening—a ride in the "Mac-Mobile!"

As they say, music is the universal language, and many Kiski Area seniors speak it very well. Aside from involvement in various school bands, our senior proteges are involving themselves in professional bands. Phil Garda tells us that such "gigs" as weddings, dances, and concerts pay about $120 a job. Groups such as Phil's (which consists of Joe Comfort, Tony DeFrancis and other Big K seniors as Frankie Amato, Chuck Pirone, Rich Casalone, Leo Homzuk and Randy Scheid) have reaped the "benefits" of outside activities. Obviously, "They believe in Music."

A large number of Kiski students are exceptionally lucky to be able to participate in the Vo-Tech system. Each day students go to Valley and learn about various trades that interest them. The seniors who participate in this system appreciate the knowledge they have received there, which help them later in life. The jobs they can obtain from this system are widely numbered. That's why we, the class of 76, have taken such advantage of it.

With plenty of spirit and enthusiam we started toward our goal. We felt deep in our hearts we couldn't let Mr. Coffman down, because like any sponsor he had more faith in us than we did. Our project began with what we believed to be an impossible goal, set not only be Mr. Coffman, but also by the representative of the company. This goal was $12,000.00. Surprisingly enough, we not only reached this goal, we surpassed it. We are honoring home room 410 with a pizza party and the top sellers (opposite) with spectacular prizes. Even in the field of magazines we have proven that "We are the Spirit of '76!"

The main idea behind any type of education should not be to demand that everyone progress at the same pace. Our goal should be to help everybody become as intelligent as they, themselves, can be. For some seniors, on the job training in Occupation Education trains them for specific jobs so that they feel that they belong, and are accepted in society. Remember, "It is scarcely possible to find a mirror so dulled that it will not reflect images of some kind, or for a tablet to have such a rough surface that nothing can be inscribed on it . . ."

For the first time in its history, the Daughters of the American Revolution Award (DAR) was opened to guys in addition to girls. Ironically enough, Kiski's representative is a guy—our own Bobby McDermott. "I was surprised more than anything," he replied when asked. "It's really an honor!" Attending teas and various other meetings are of the few of the activities involved in being a DAR recipient. In addition to the honor and tne recognition, Bobby is eligible to compete for a statewide scholarship which enables all state winners to compete for a mational scholarship.

This year we were priviliged enough to have Ben Turnbull and Jose Brossin with us as exchange students from Mexico City. Ben stayed with the family of Terry and Tim Woitas while Jose abided with the Carney family. To the other KA "estudiantes" Ben was "super-smart." Although he did not graduate with us, we still regarded him as one of us—the Spirit of '76! It was the hand of fate that brought Jose (Pepe to friends). We all know of his unfortunate encounters at the airport. Foreign or not, these two fine young men have shown us that friendship knows no language and a smile can alienate no one.

It is now Sunday evening, the time is 9:30. You toss your "rush-job" homework into the corner and burn to the radio to hear—"Doctor DiMento" and the top 10 Dimented Discs! Never a day goes by when someone is talking and laughing about "The Crusher", "Irving", or "Your Friendly Neighborhood Narco-Agent." For those who don't "groove" in "Dimentia", Elton, Bowie, Doobie Brothers and BTO—are enough for their "hit parade taste buds." While the bumpers conform to "The Hustle" the lovers are crooning to "Feelings" and "Could it be Magic." The clappers and snappers can really get into "That's the Way." Whether rock, folk, blues, or even dimentedness, everyone here at the Big K finds that music is one of the forces by which all of us can identify.

"The 'nasty' bump" of the 30's is making a tremendous comeback. And the recent "touch" a take-off of the bump can also be seen on all dance floors. If you don't know how to touch or bump, find a cute guy or girl (that you've got your eye on, of course) it's a great way to get to know someone and to learn to dance. "The Hustle" is somewhat of a mystery to a lot of us at Kiski—and those who do know it are in great demand at all parties and dances. In reaction to the nostalgia of the 30's, one dance (a little older than 45 years) has become popular. Let's hear it for "Polka Power! The old "1,2,3" is aquainting itself to toes everywhere. So let's get it on gang, pick your partner and "do-si-do!"

Under the International Fellowship program, our first foreign exchange student, Sally McCutcheon, traveled to Bogota, Columbia. During her stay this summer she attended an all-girl Catholic school. She also enjoyed a vacation on the Carribean with her foreign "family." When asked what the over-all trip was like, she replies—"fantastico!"

Unisex has finally come to the Big "K" through Puka beads. Boys as well as girls are wearing them. Puka beads are seen daily on students who are wearing jeans and those who are "dressed-up." Feminine or Masculine (or even somewhere in between) it looks as though puka beads will remain in fashion headlines . . . at the "Big K."

Every school has your basic Polish, Blacks, and Italians but here at Kiski we are fortunate to be "spiced" with a few "diversed" cultures such as The Greeks, Scotch, Arabs, and Latvians. Thanks to Jackie and Sylvia, the majorettes performed a beautiful Grecian folk dance on Band night. And of course, everyone who eats lunch sixth period in the upper cafeteria is now able to count and scream in Lebanese as a result of Cindie's and George's lively dialogue. As everyone knows, when an Arab talks, one can't help but to listen. Thanks to Dave we can recognize a "kilt" on sight and even find Latvia on the map, with Joyce's help. Each of us has an individual culture, but together we compose a unique Ethnic Group—we are—Kiskians?

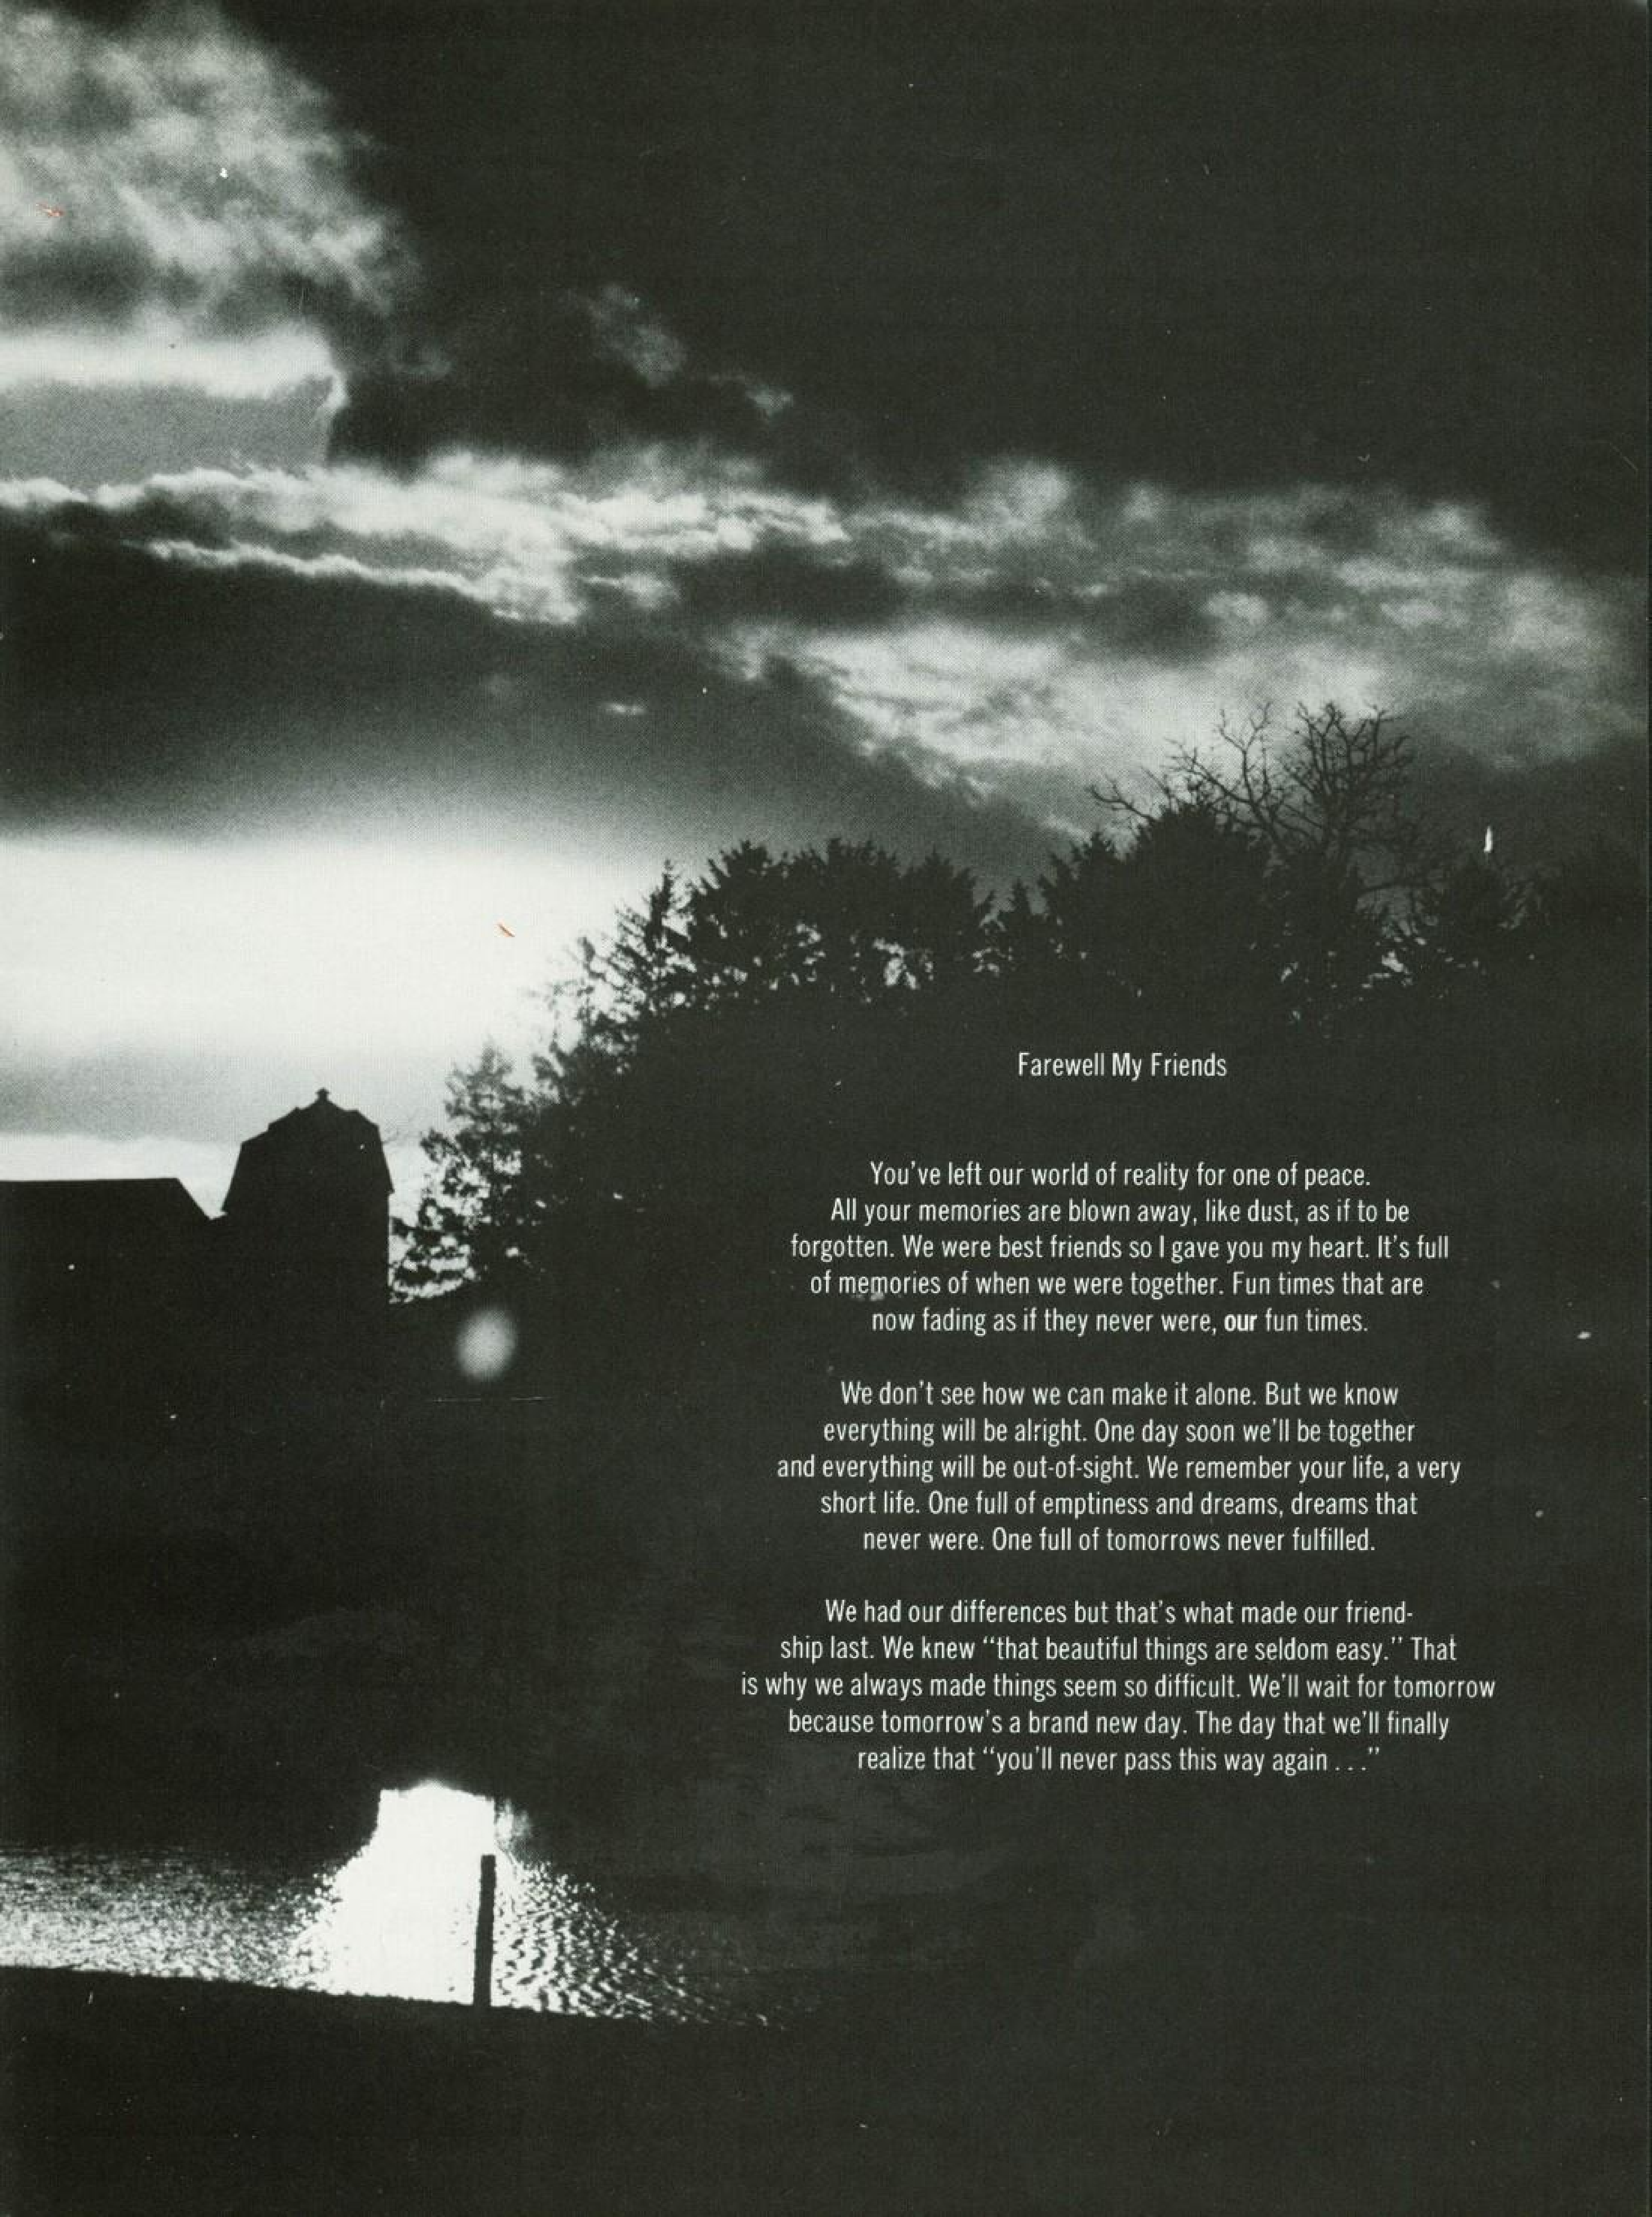
Yes, my friend, this is the final footstep, the last trek through "our" halls. It's sad to say good-bye for "We May Never Pass This Way Again." That is why I'd like to be with you now, here, today. Tomorrow may never come and I shall miss you, my friend. But "like Columbus in the olden days, we must gather all our courage" and face a new world of strangers. Perhaps we'll meet again some day, but now we must go our separate ways.

In Memory Of Linda Johnson, Joe Snock, And Steve Walker.

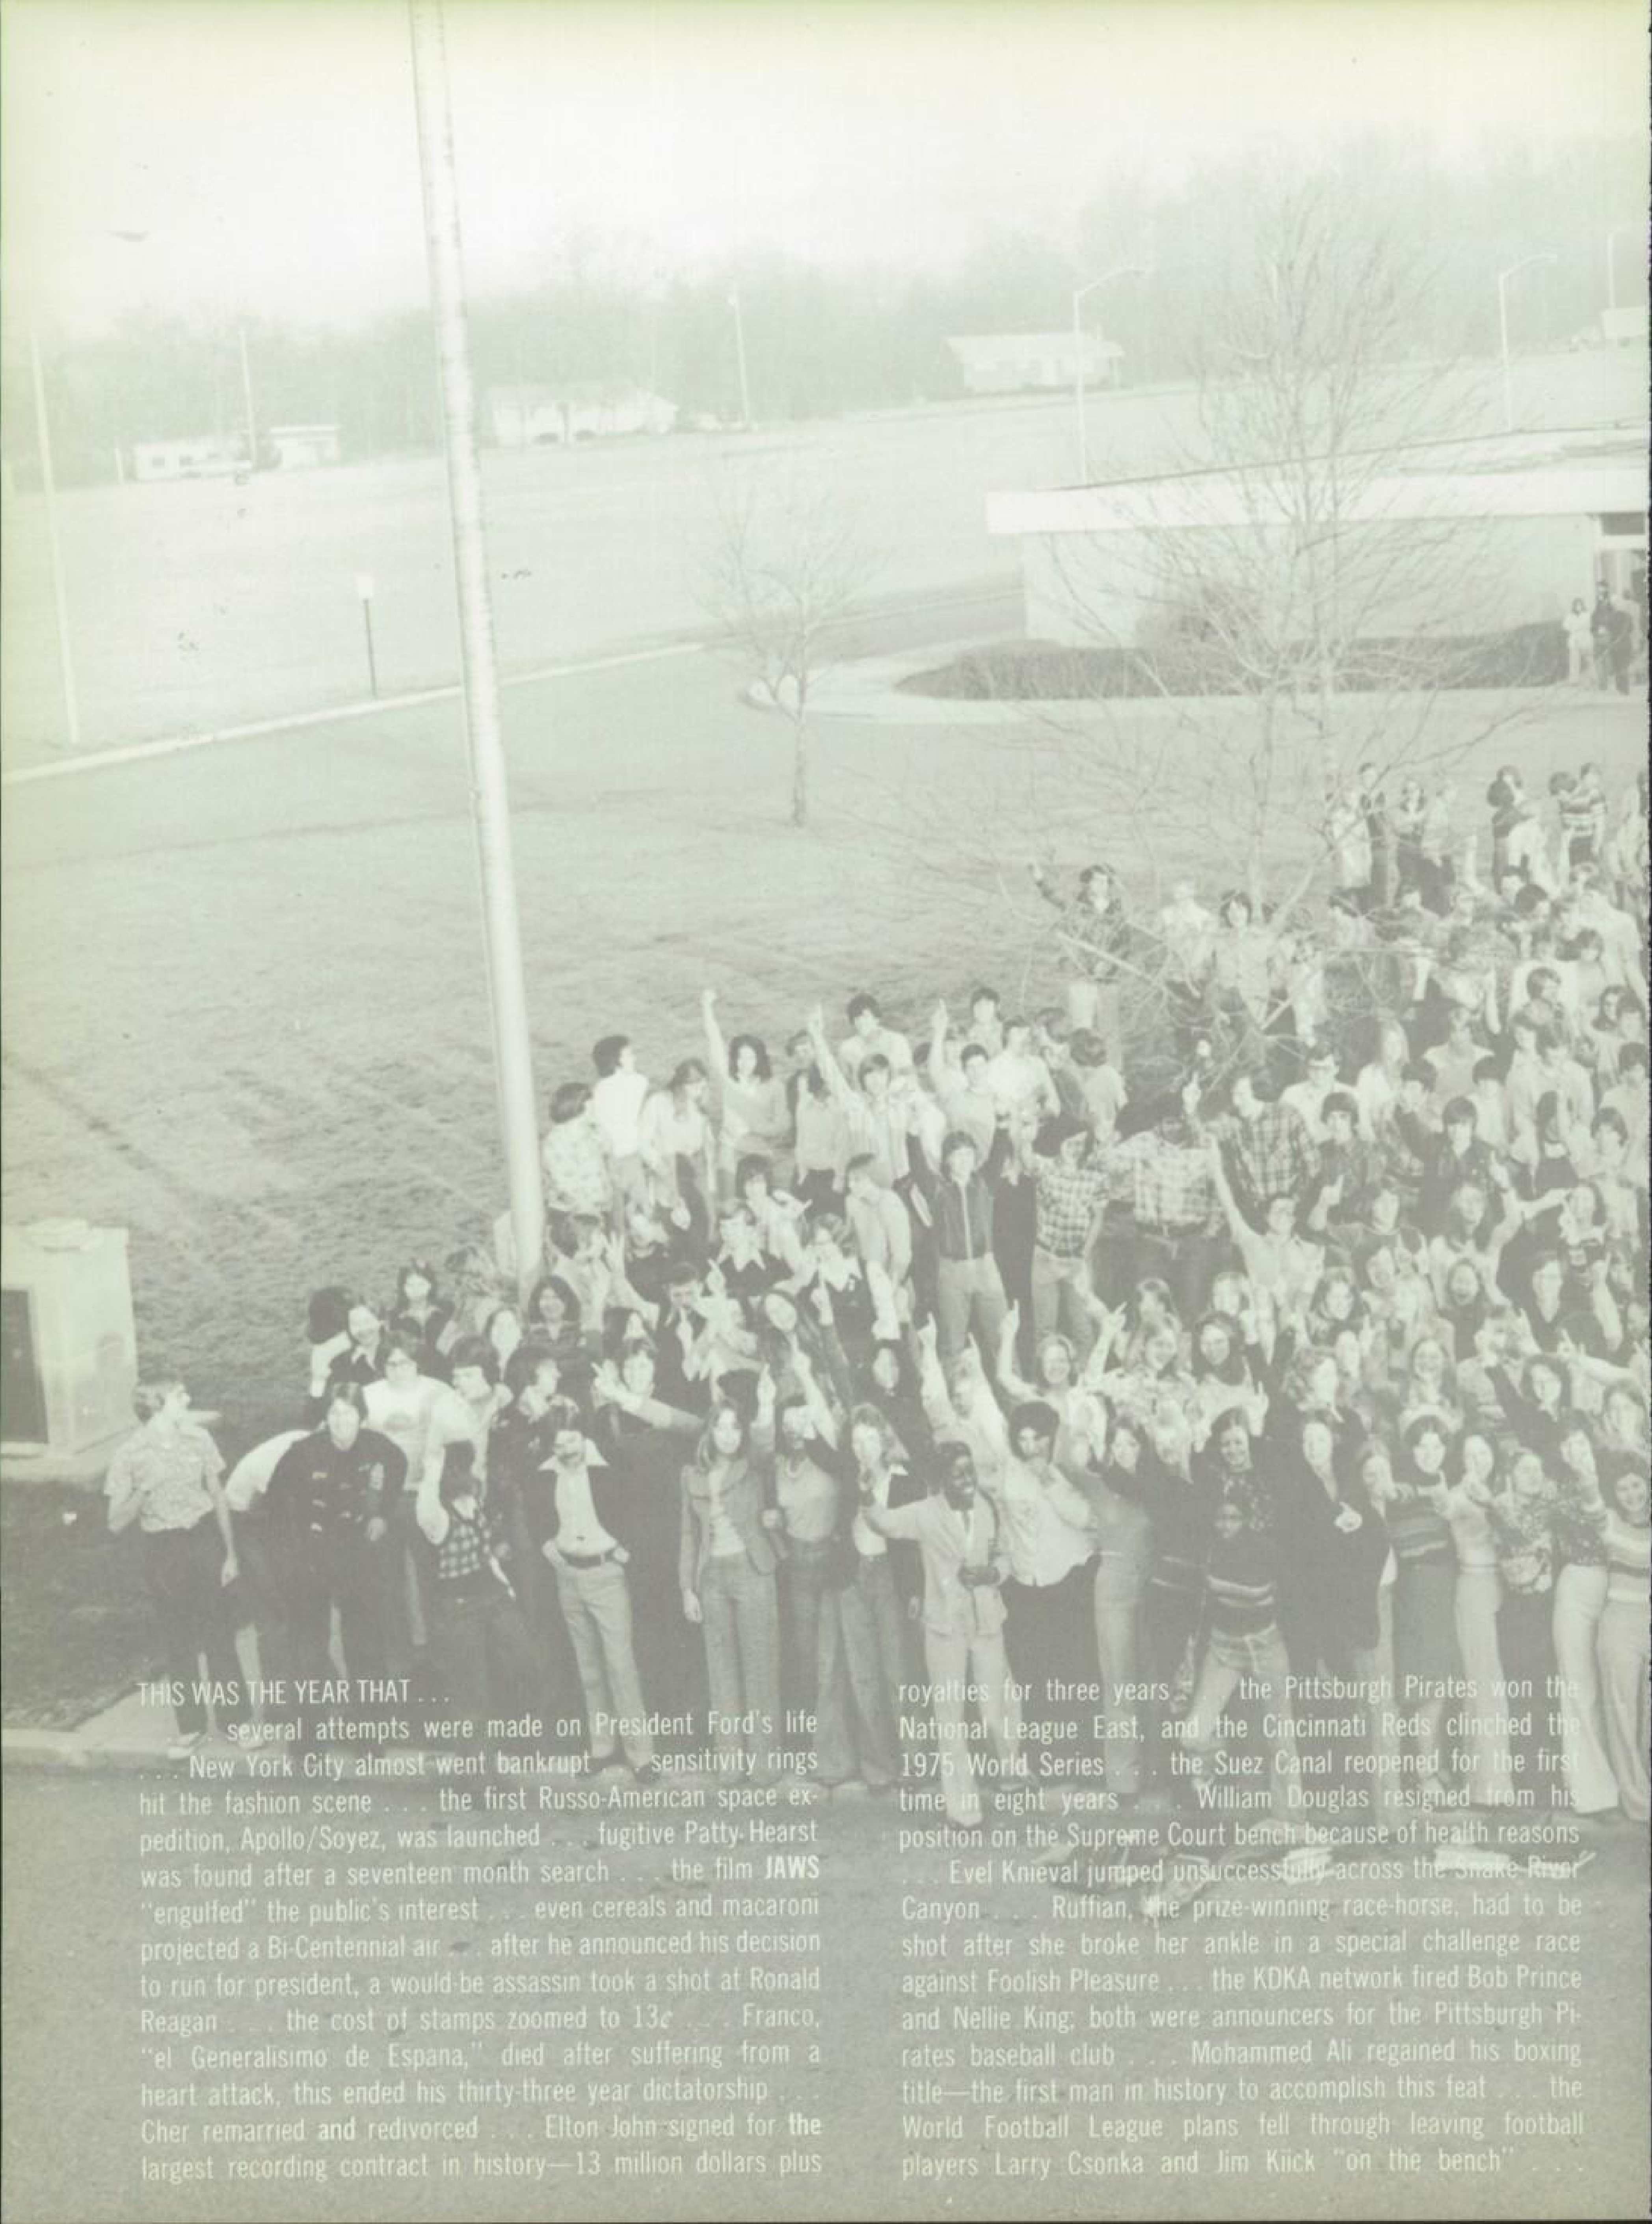


Farewell My Friends

You've left our world of reality for one of peace. All your memories are blown away, like dust, as if to be forgotten. We were best friends so I gave you my heart. It's full of memories of when we were together. Fun times that are now fading as if they never were, our fun times.

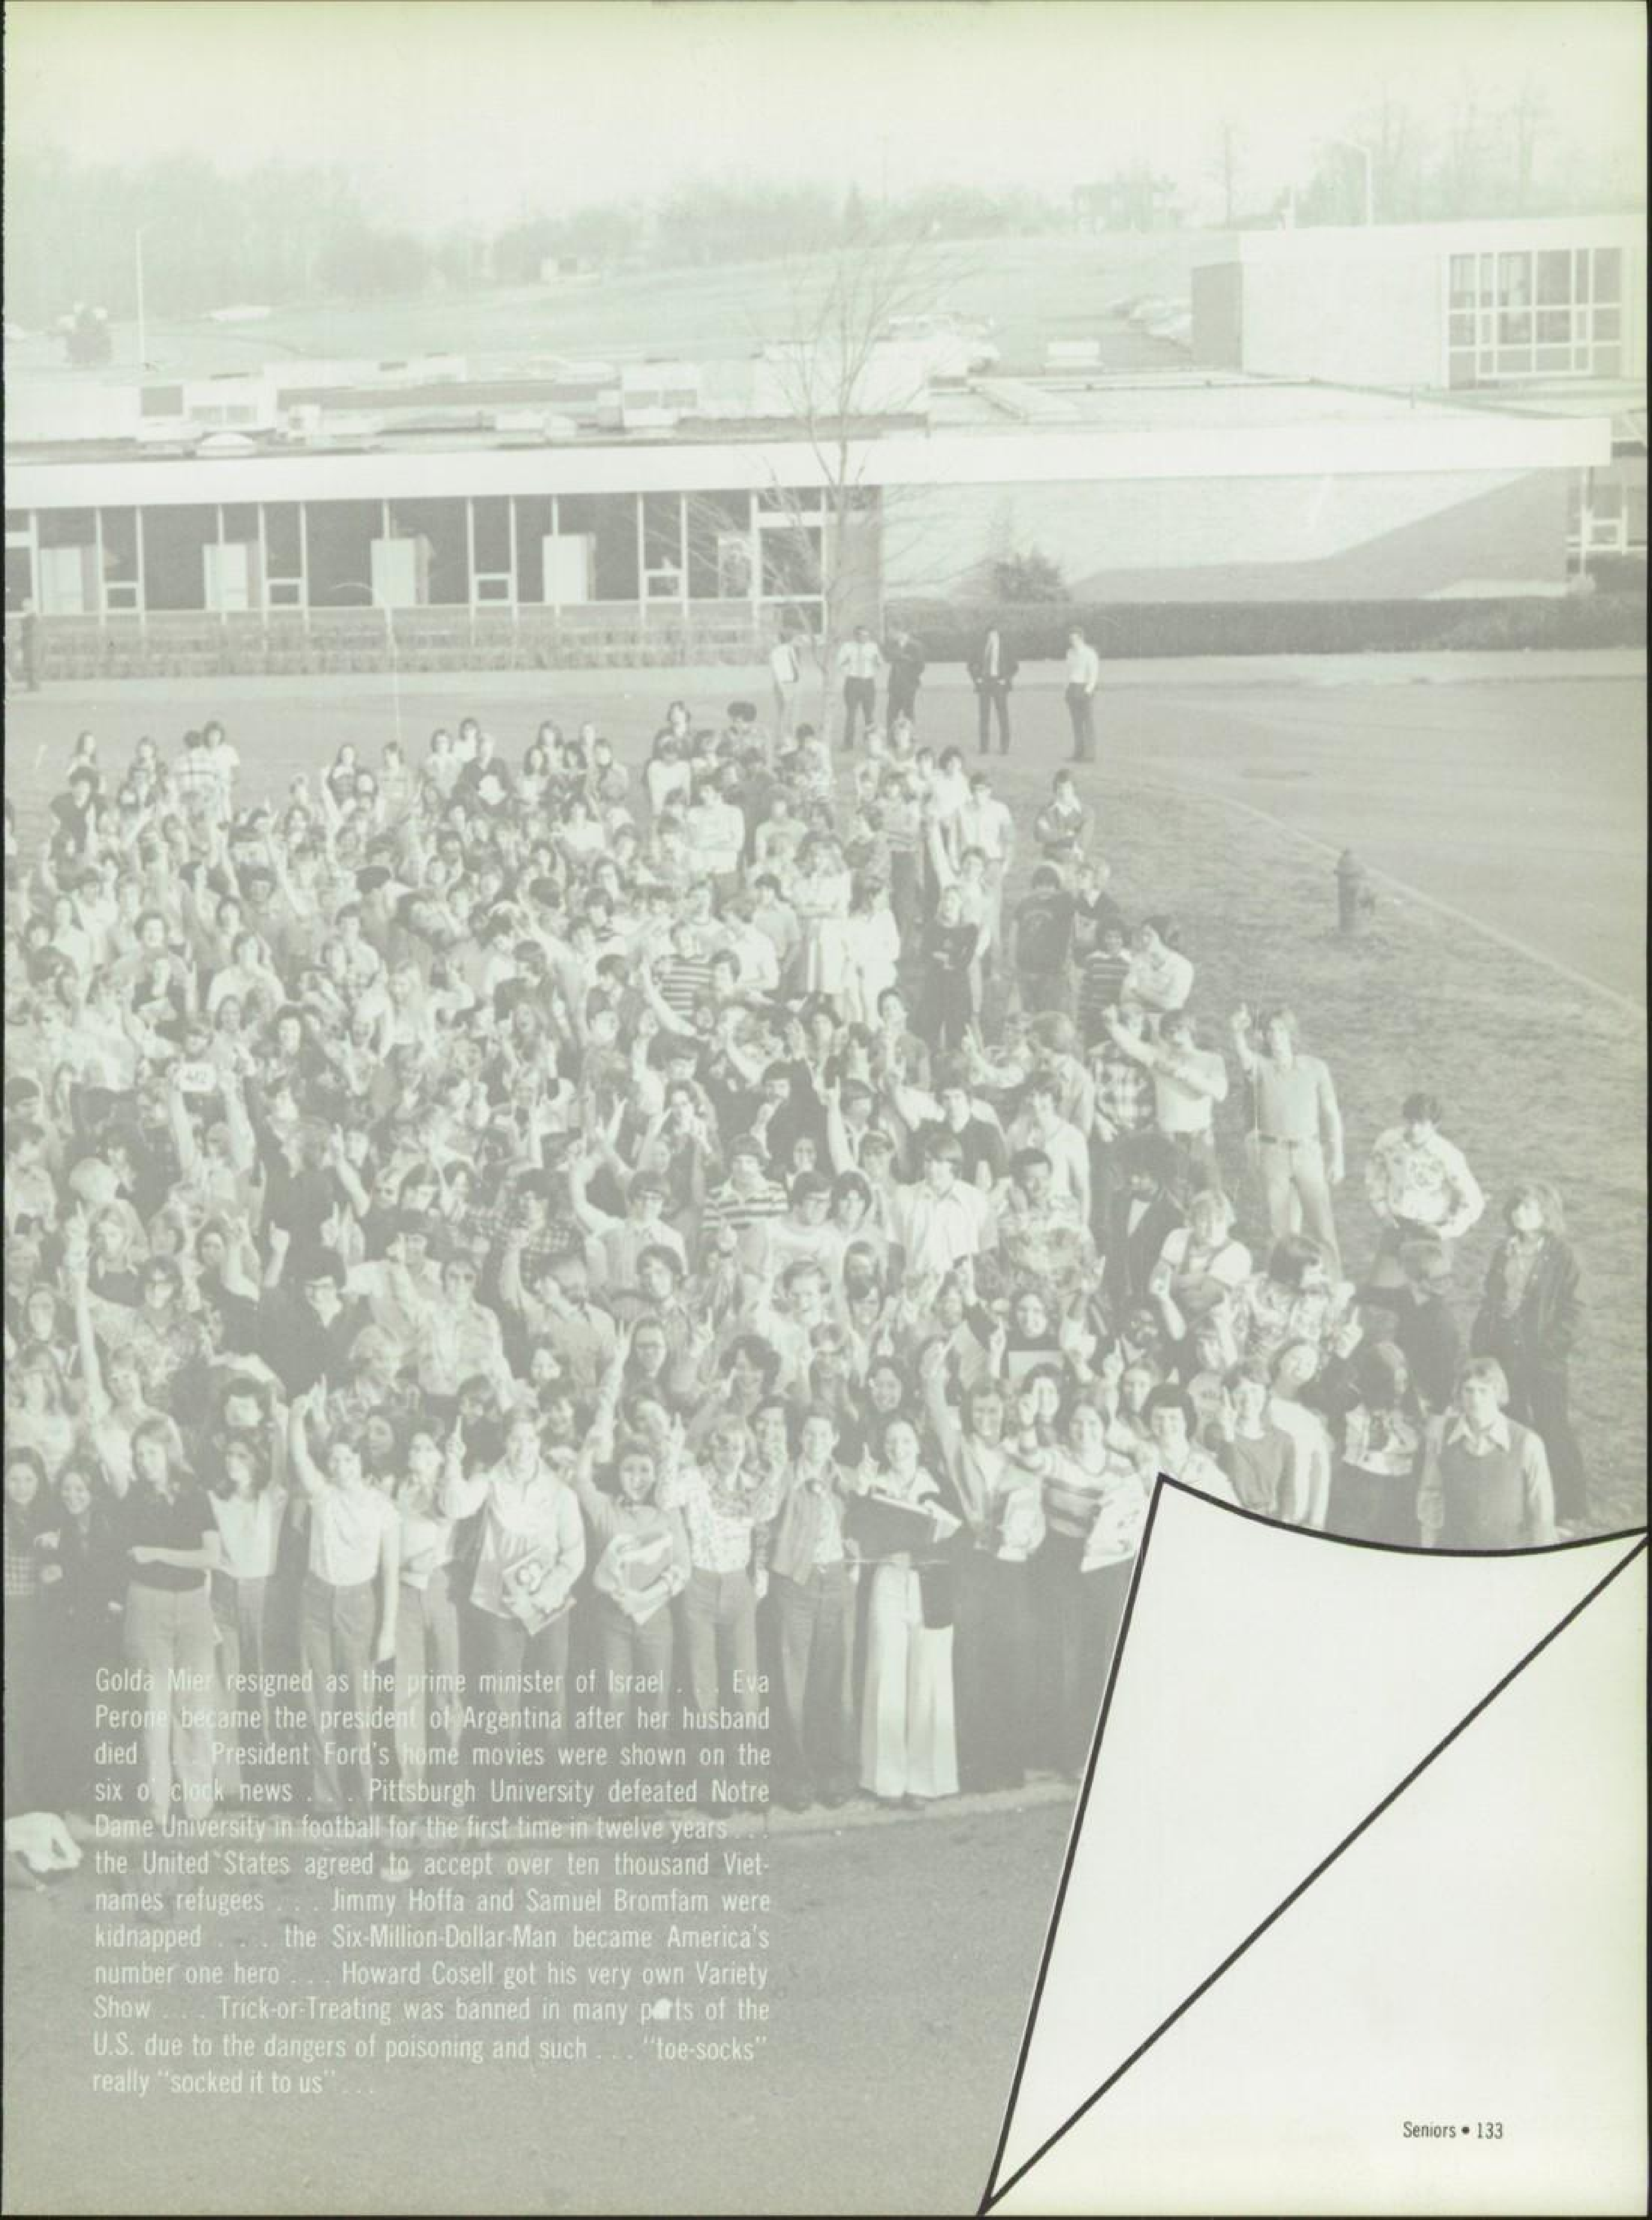
We don't see how we can make it alone. But we know everything will be alright. One day soon we'll be together and everything will be out-of-sight. We remember your life, a very short life. One full of emptiness and dreams, dreams that never were. One full of tomorrows never fulfilled.

We had our differences but that's what made our friendship last. We knew "that beautiful things are seldom easy." That is why we always made things seem so difficult. We'll wait for tomorrow because tomorrow's a brand new day. The day that we'll finally realize that "you'll never pass this way again . . ."



THIS WAS THE YEAR THAT . . .

. . . several attempts were made on President Ford's life . . . New York City almost went bankrupt . . . sensitivity rings hit the fashion scene . . . the first Russo-American space expedition, Apollo/Soyez, was launched . . . fugitive Patty Hearst was found after a seventeen month search . . . the film JAWS "engulfed" the public's interest . . . even cereals and macaroni projected a Bi-Centennial air . . . after he announced his decision to run for president, a would-be assassin took a shot at Ronald Reagan . . . the cost of stamps zoomed to 13¢ . . . Franco, "el Generalisimo de Espana," died after suffering from a heart attack, this ended his thirty-three year dictatorship . . . Cher remarried and redivorced . . . Elton John signed for the largest recording contract in history—13 million dollars plus royalties for three years . . . the Pittsburgh Pirates won the National League East, and the Cincinnati Reds clinched the 1975 World Series . . . the Suez Canal reopened for the first time in eight years . . . William Douglas resigned from his position on the Supreme Court bench because of health reasons . . . Evel Knieval jumped unsuccessfully across the Snake River Canyon . . . Ruffian, the prize-winning race-horse, had to be shot after she broke her ankle in a special challenge race against Foolish Pleasure . . . the KDKA network fired Bob Prince and Nellie King; both were announcers for the Pittsburgh Pirates baseball club . . . Mohammed Ali regained his boxing title—the first man in history to accomplish this feat . . . the World Football League plans fell through leaving football players Larry Csonka and Jim Kiick "on the bench" . . .



Golda Mier resigned as the prime minister of Israel . . . Eva Perone became the president of Argentina after her husband died . . . President Ford's home movies were shown on the six o'clock news . . . Pittsburgh University defeated Notre Dame University in football for the first time in twelve years . . . the United States agreed to accept over ten thousand Viet-names refugees . . . Jimmy Hoffa and Samuel Bromfam were kidnapped . . . the Six-Million-Dollar-Man became America's number one hero . . . Howard Cosell got his very own Variety Show . . . Trick-or-Treating was banned in many parts of the U.S. due to the dangers of poisoning and such . . . "toe-socks" really "socked it to us" . . .

At the beginning of the year when people asked what grade we were in, we often forgot and said "sophomore." But as the year progressed we learned to say "junior." and what it meant. Selling candy, going to cultures class, not worrying anymore about having a pass when we walked through the halls during classes. Having enough guts to sing "Happy Birthday" at the top of our lungs to our friend at lunch, not caring who hears. Acting really weird just to have fun because you know next year you'll have to grow up a little and act your age. Getting to tell somebody else what to do for a change, although we still had to listen to the seniors.

But our most common activity as juniors was lounging up along the side of a locker catching scoop.

So even though we still screamed and kicked our lockers when they wouldn't open, we did change, and will continue to change, grow, and mature on our way to becoming seniors.

To the casual eye we seemed a group of ordinary people; well-dressed, reasonably good-looking, but terribly frightened of that first day. Through the help and guidance of a few "friends", we managed to find our homerooms. Once there we made new friends and to our surprise, we found that all our fears had vanished. We, the class of 78.

Now, we move onward, one year closer to our graduation and next year it will be our turn to laugh when we see the new sophomores:

—Trying desperately to open lockers, —Spending a whole period looking for the library and finally getting there and realizing our next class was in the health rooms.

—Electing class officers who executed the tedious task of collecting our "Sophomore Class Dollars."

But we'll never utter a chuckle when we see:

—The faces of next year's sophomores when they hear they have to disect a frog.

—Their anticipation of the biggest social event of the year . . . The Sophomore Dance.

For we now know the painful strifes of what it means to be a sophomore, and to learn and experience the new.

ATHLETICS

CROSS COUNTRY

Breakfast at 6:30, practice at 9:00, on Saturday? And a "short" four mile run was our "main game," besides a five mile run every night. But we accepted it and tried our best.

After our first victory over Apollo, we thought we were on the top of the world. And even if Chipmunk, Luke, Ken Dave did get lost at Latrobe, we knew we had it all together when we made the W.P.I.A.L. qualifiers. Thanks to all the "scenic" Northmoreland trips and endless practices we managed to place sixth and support Blaze and his "you're a liar" tantrums all the way through the state qualifiers.

Each time we ran that course we gave a great part of ourselves for the pride of our school. Collapsed and out of breath as we finished the end of a three mile run, we, in our minds, were fulfilled and now realize how much we really gave to ourselves for molding a beautiful future.

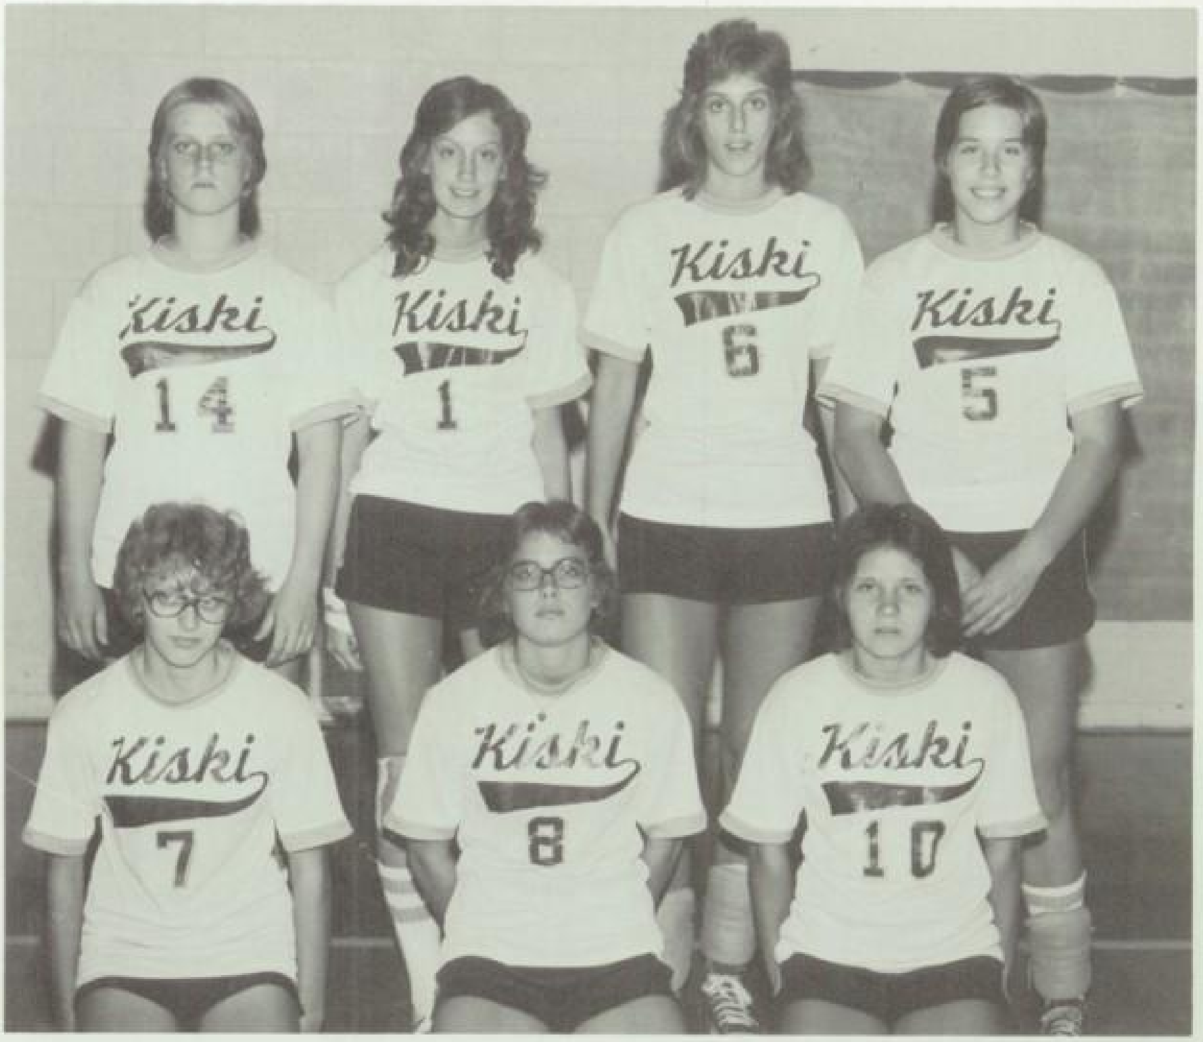
VOLLEYBALL

We practiced and practiced until we could spike, drive, set and serve better than any other team. We proved this by going as far as the WPIAL finals. We put all of our strength, mentally and physically into our practices. We worked until we developed pride in our self and our school.

Under the supreme coaching of Mrs. Chunko we learned to have self confidence in ourselves and in our team. Mrs. Chunko says that, "Basically we have a good team, when we put our minds to it we can crack even the toughest team."

Sure we are like any other team, serious while on the court, but our individual personalities come out in the locker room. Many times shoes, clothes, and towels are hid on different team members. Sometimes our team clowns, "Load Smith" or "Wick Wichrowski" helped our tension before a rough game. Rough game or not we knew we could win the section because we had the Spirit of '76.

Row 1: E. Briggs, L. West, D. Shaffer. Row 2: C. Smith, V. Foreman, K. Wickrowski, K. Soltis.



"During the regular season, I think my team won so much because they believed in winning, because they thought they couldn't lose. Their courage and will to win always pulled them out of the close ones."

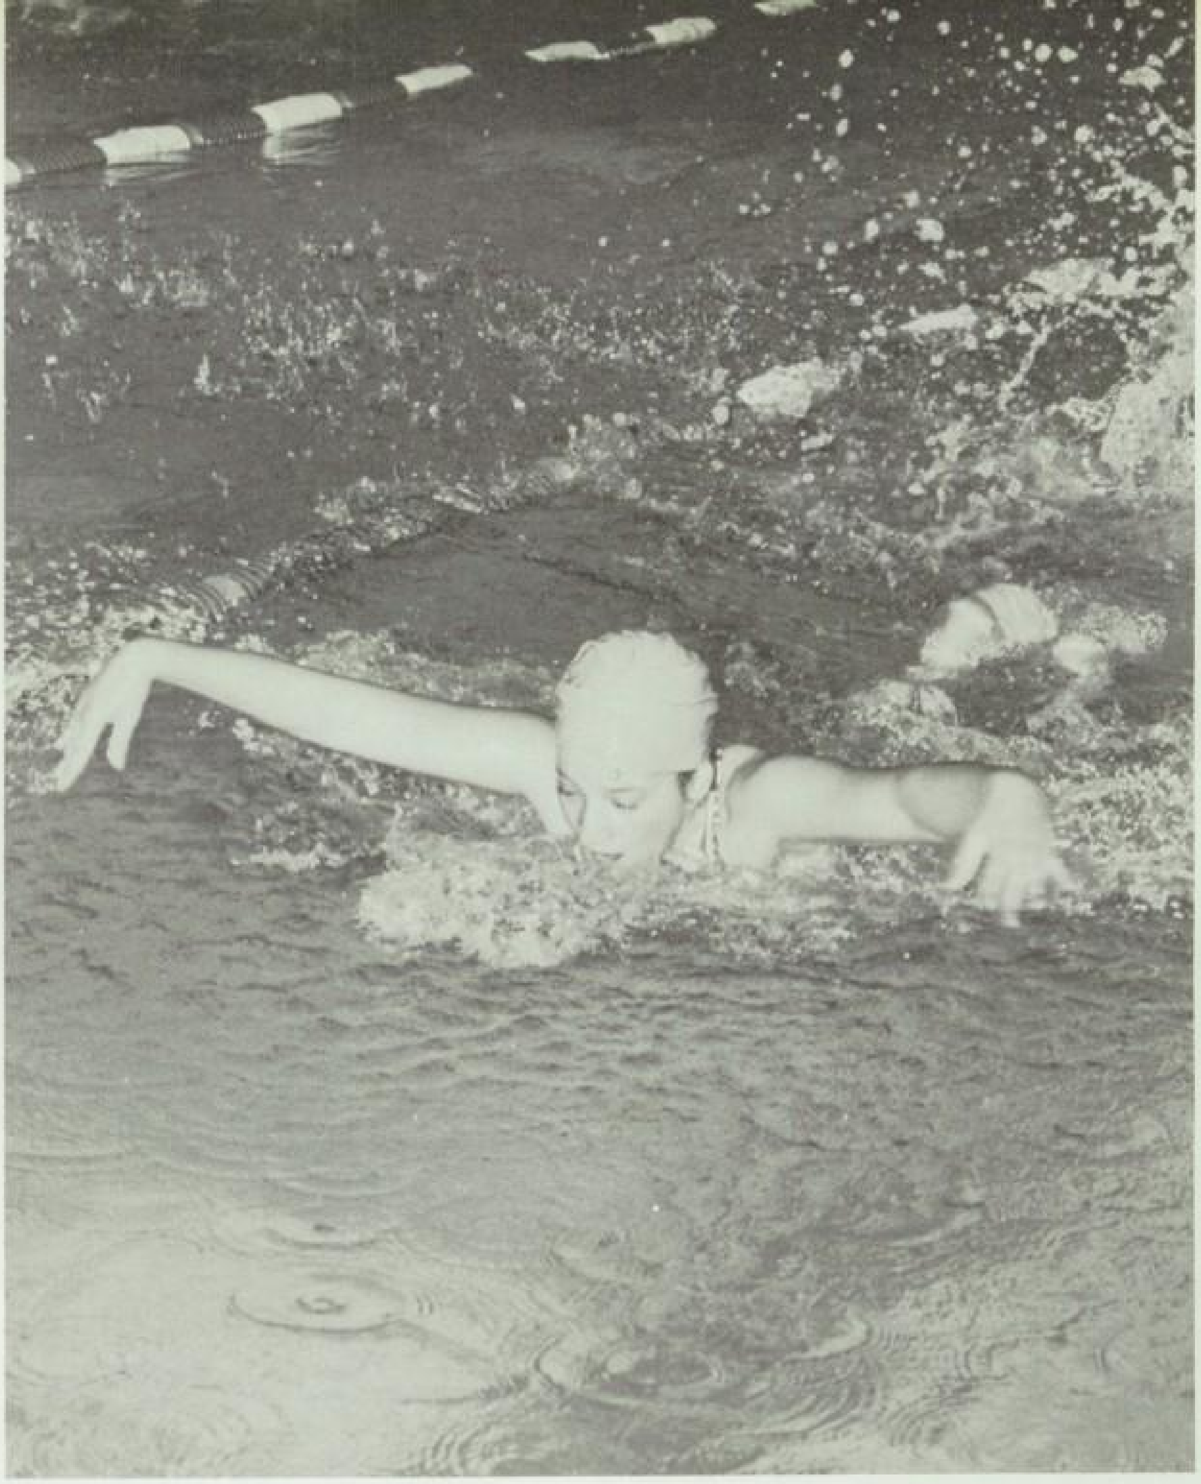
GIRLS SWIM TEAM

Under the steadfast vigil of our fearless captain "Chick", spirit and determination were never lacking. Neither had a chance to. We kept ourselves busy with the daily 130 laps a night. The final result? The honor and prestige of having the #1 swim team in the section!

Between diving and back stroking we found time to invent our mascot "Ernie," talk Sue into swimming the 500, and watching for sharks in the deep end!

Even with 8:00 Saturday morning practices, where the unwelcomed prospect of water hits you like a "Cold slap in the face," we were able to become super "sisters" give so much to each other to learn so much ourselves. We encouraged each other to pull until we could experience.



"The girls' swim team set the section championship as their goal this year and they clinched the title before the season ended with a win over Hampton. Twelve Seniors, some with four years experience were the main source of strength."

BOYS' SWIMMING

When the season began, we were looking toward the Section Championship. With eight returning lettermen (and plenty of depth) the championship seemed like a sure thing, but before the season was a month old, two lettermen were gone (and with them a lot of depth). With their leaving we felt a great loss to the team.

Of course we never lost the fighting spirit and practiced hard on the 200's, 100's, 75's, 50's and 25's and success was at hand again. But as the season went on our dreams turned into nightmares! However, toward the end of the season Kiski Pride found its way to the pool and a few who weren't counted on came through and we managed a decent season. And, of course, on the highlights of the year was when Mr. Ruggeri, "Billy and The Gang" went to the WPIAL Championship meet!

The newest foundation of the great Cav's began at Bethany where we all turned out for camp. The cheerleaders made the welcome warmer with their signs and posters, but they soon departed and we got down to business. Oh Boy! Those drills and practices were work but everyone tried to "tie up the score" with the band girls.

With the foundation laid we traveled home to show what we learned. We continued to practice and drill and practice and drill until we trooped over Latrobe for our first "Big K" victory. We watched films every day at lunch from then on.

Although we lost to Valley, our little, big men went on to do the impossible and beat Johnstown and Penn Hills and earned ourselves quite a dinner at Johnny Garneau's.

With Ray Bell's quickest cure for the common cold and our uncontrollable desire to win, we, as co-champs, brought home the Foothills Title.

Mr. Morea had to end the season with his annual football "tapes" and Waddell, Shaffer, Dog, and Puffy proved unlucky victims. But with all the time we spent together—running, drilling, tackling, kneeling, winning, laughing, and—yes—even crying—we made ourselves into the best—the very, very, best.

Faith Can Move Mountains

In the locker room after the Valley game, the players and coaches, alone and defeated, knelt down before God and silently vowed that somehow, someway, we were going to win the Foothills Championship. Who would have believed us then? I'm sure there was even a little doubt in each of our own minds, but we continued to pray and strengthen our vow. There we began the feel of a togetherness which we had never experienced before; a togetherness we later came to know as, "Faith." Faith in each other, our parents, relatives, friends, our school, our community, faith in and through God. It wasn't a sudden, instant miraculous type of thing; nor was it an easy road from that point on. Instead, we were confronted with one adversity after another as the faith grew even stronger until we reached our goal—the Foothills Championship.

"We Believe"

GYMNASTICS

As seven of the 1974-75 gymnasts bade farewell upon graduation we were left a weak and inexperienced team but that was just a bad misconception of the 1975-76 gym team. With practice starting in Mid-September we knew we had our work cut out for us. We had a long way to go but with a lot of hard work and practice we were determined to add to our string of 38 consective wins. Each of us claimed an apparatus—Jimmy on vaulting, Dave on sidehorse, Jim on parallel bars, Tim on floor exercise and Rich as our Sophmore all-around we began our strive for perfection. Janey the first and only girl ever on a KA gymnastic team didn't bother us, as long as she didn't talk. One of our favorite attractions was Coach Answine's Gleem toothpaste suit. We were constantly entertained with Tim Swarts' ridiculous "air-headed" statements. Then there was the day Ed did his face off the high bar. Under the coaching of Mr. Answine whose years of experience brought us to where we are now, and Mr. Cernicky who is constantly demanding perfection we realized we were proud to be KA gymnasts!

"Discipline" in competitive gymnastics involves a performer's ability to maintain strict control over his emotions of fear, anger, and elation while constantly supressing his drive for self-preservation.

Mr. Answine

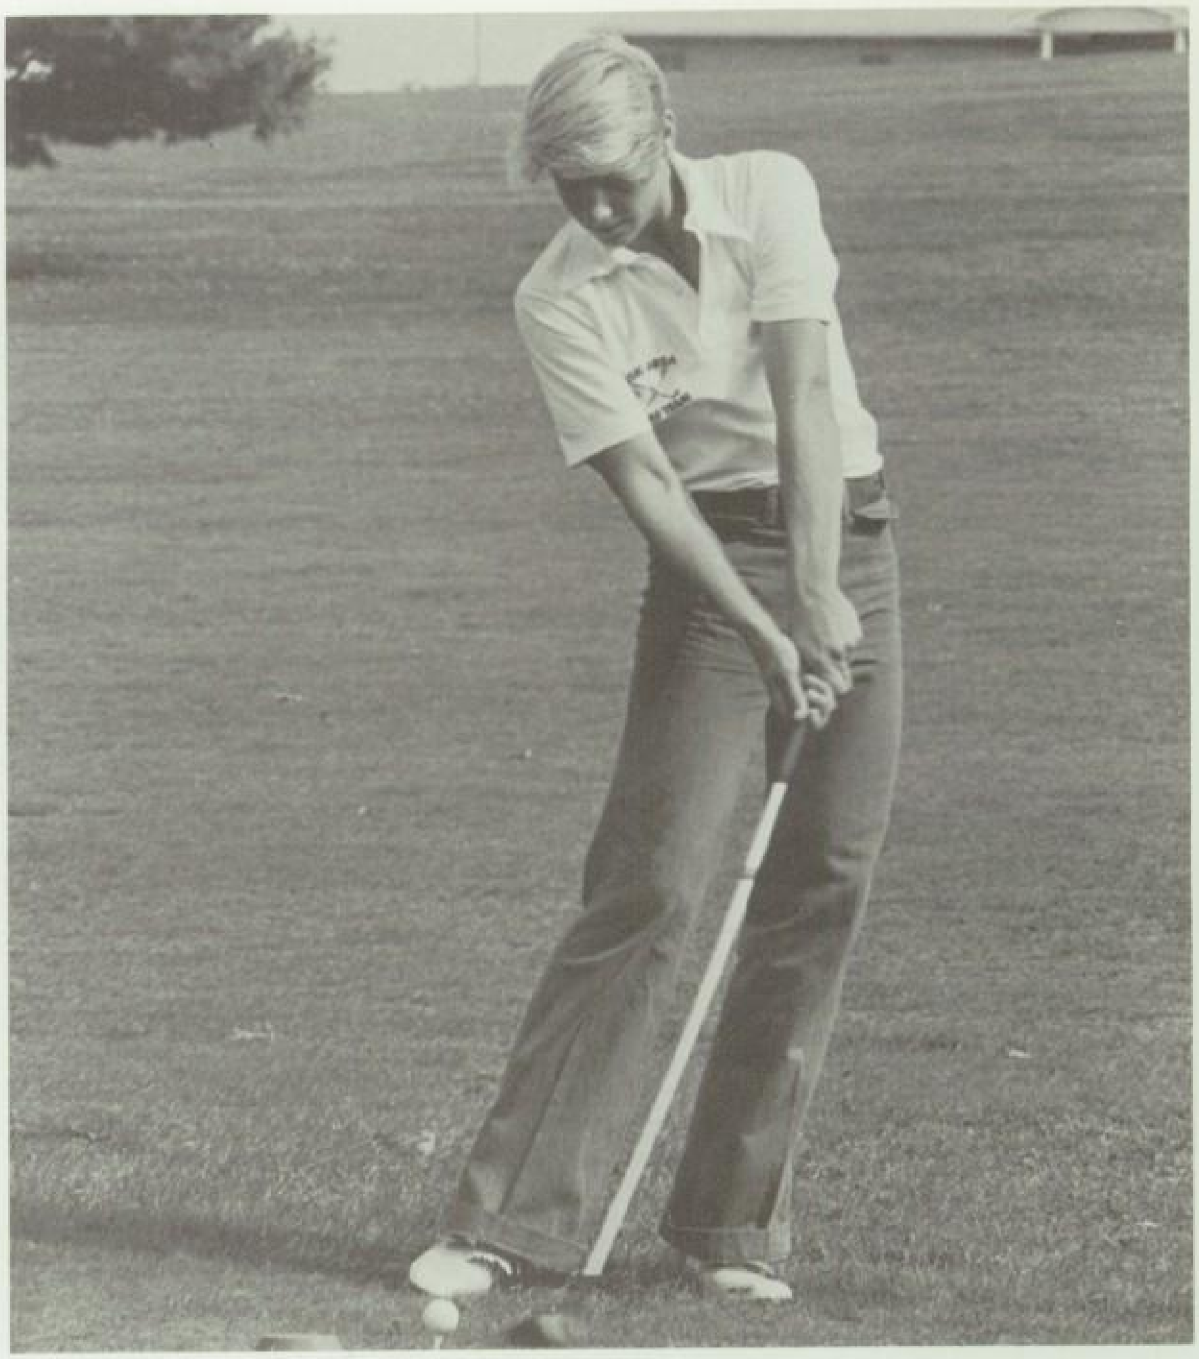
GOLF TEAM

This year's golf team approached the season "in the swing of things," as some fans would say. But under Mr. Ves' supervision they couldn't help but do great. We might not have compared to Nicholas, but with Watt going to the states and "Fabes" eagle we really had stored up some pride. We had character, everything from "Wimpy" to "The Fonz." After one of our meets, the saying; "The grass is always greener on the other side" was undoubtedly true. We always managed to leave behind a little remembrance from the Big K. Whether it be a rut in the teeing area or a simple congratulations, it all meant the same. Sure we had a few unexperienced underclassmen, but with all the "swinging" we did throughout the year, we all know that next year we'll be yelling "one," not "fore."



"This year's team was the best golf team in Kiski Area history."

A group of us were devoted to one love—basketball. (We had to be to make it through all of the practices!)

We began the season after two months of regular practice. That's not counting the summer workouts. Sprints and shooting drills were only a small part of what went into making us a team.

We played our first game with Burrell, and won; of course. Our record may not have been perfect for the rest of the year, but we held enough long and frequent practices. While our friends listened to the radio and breathed a sigh of relief when school was called off, it didn't mean that much to us. We knew we'd have to get up and go to practice. But it was all worth it. We really bettered our record from last year.

No matter what the record was, one thing about us; we never gave up. We may never be pros, but we sure had fun trying to look like them.

KISKI AREA
BASKETBALL
STAFF

The Basketball team at Kiski has shown a definite firmness of purpose and a tendency towards some objectives, that being number one in the section. Whether or not this is the end result, the boys have worked hard during summer ball and throughout this 75-76 season.

All the boys have investigated their abilities as well as their limitations, and had strived to improve. They have fixed their attention on the importance and at the same time shown a sureness of themselves as individuals.

The section record will be an important factor at the end, but regardless, the Cavliers determination this year has been FANTASTIC!

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Our season started out somewhat like a bouncing ball, we'd win a few games and then we'd loose. Even with a somewhat "shakey" record, we remained faithful, not only to our super coach, but, also, to ourselves.

With all our height and speed we had a secure team and we knew things would get better. As the season progressed, we did become a little more stable in respect to our record.

With the help of "Chick", "Hopper", "Bo", and "Wick", we got rid of our "Locker Room Blues." We even got used to our taped ankles, brush burned knees, and tramped-on fingers! Many accidents occured but all our good times as a team of friends and competitiors seemed to be more of an asset to us. We found through all our times together just exactly "how the ball bounces!"

Even though we lost games, we never lost spirit.

WRESTLING

Everyone knew wrestling had started when team members went from "stuffed cabbage" physiques to string beans. The "wrestlers diets," consisting of tasteless celery and crunchy carrot sticks, were a familiar sight during lunch. With ten pounds worth of sweat suits we tried to wiggle our way into our weight class. Although we were the worlds greatest dieters we learned that even the best had to cheat a little, like when Perry came to bum a peanut butter and jelly sandwich from the yearbook staff. For every two pounds lost three were gained but by the next match we were back to celery, carrots, and sweatsuits. After Mr. Roberto's accident we were rather uncertain of the season ahead. Then we realized that he could maneuver better than some people can on two legs. With the help of Mr. Crooks and Mr. Toy we were determined to have a good season. With the support from the Wrestlerettes and the Wrestling Club we could see only victory and anything short of that would be unacceptable. Between knee sprints, and ten "goot" extension push-ups, or just rolling around on the mats sore muscles were getting to be a habit. The fact that girls aren't such bad wrestlers was proven to us when Mr. Roberto's daughter came to practice and showed us how to do neck bridges. We ran, we exercised, we dieted, and sometimes we even wrestled and who knows, maybe we even learned something. But through all the bumps, bruises, and empty stomachs, we found satisfaction in all.

DETERMINATION is making a personal commitment to become the best wrestler you possibly can be. It is not something you can wish for; it is something you must work for. SUCCESS is the end product of DETERMINATION. Determination is the key factor in "The Making of a Champion!"

HOW MUCH DOES YOUR FREEDOM MEAN TO YOU?
i used to be one of the crowd, someone who goes along with anything anyone says or does. i didn't know what it meant to be an individual.

i didn't know what i liked, what i believed in, or what my life was all about.
but now things have changed. i'm free to say what i feel and express my own ideas and thoughts.
you are free to listen and express yourself openly, even if your beliefs are totally different.
we understand and respect each other. i like the Beach Boys, earth shoes, and Olivia Newton John, you prefer Led Zepplin, "platforms" and Monty Pythons flying circus (?) . . . sure, we have different ideas—i think that's great! "if you choose to you can live your life alone. some people choose the city, some others choose the good old family home. i like living easy without family ties 'til the whippoorwill of freedom zapped me right between the eyes . . ." "shine the light, shine the light, shine the light, won't you shine the light. philadelphia freedom i love you, yes i do . . ." ELTON JOHN & BERNIE TAUPIN

THE WAT

PATCHES . . . ANALOGY . . . RESPONSIBILITY . . . HOW CAN I FULFILL MY RESPONSIBILITIES?

when i've no one to lean on, or the feeling that no one cares. sometimes things seemed so bad that "life would kick you down to the ground, and when we tried to get up, life would kick us back down." sure you felt that you couldn't go on you "wanted to leave; just run away from home." but running wouldn't help. from every cavern in your mind would creep memories of lonely feelings that were never let out. you were a student, an individual willing to face consequences for unrealized mistakes, depended on by friends to tell them a few of the questions on their big test, one that remained faithful to "our guys" even when we doubted them. as a massive group, different in many ways, we clung to each other to see just who was the best businessman, and who could sell the most magazines and candy. "i thought i was carrying the weight of the whole world on my shoulders," when i found out i was the only girl in my weight training class. "everybody else was depending on me, i tried to do my best, it's up to them to do the rest." easily enough we could stand together, but we were young adults, responsible enough to make it on our own. "patches i'm depending on you son, to pull the family through, my son it's all left up to you." CLARENCE CARTER

GO FIGHT WIN

I ONLY HAVE EYES FOR YOU . . . ANALOGY . . . LOYALTY . . . WHY ARE YOU SPECIAL TO ME? because i am a part of you. i contribute, i belong.
because i believe in you. i know you can do it when you try i can be proud of you. because i've spent the past few years of my life knowing i would soon be one of those that makes this more than a place. we are never loyal to a place, but to the people who have given it a purpose, a reputation. we give this place its character. we are loyal to each other, and to others that have come before us. we have faith, spirit, and pride. we believe we care, we try harder. for this place, this school, and no other. yes, i only have eyes for you.
in years to come, after we have gone from here we will be loyal to other people other places and ideals.
but we will still feel someting for this place. because we are loyal.
"you are here, so am i. maybe millions of people go by, but they all disappear from view, 'cause i only have eyes for you."

Opposite, Right: Cheryl Johngarlo gets assistance from Mrs. Contie.

TOP OF THE WORLD . . . ANALOGY: AUTHORITY
HOW FAR CAN YOU CLIMB? when you're uncertain of the way, would you try with all efforts to reach your goal, or would you give up before you've tried. what is the extent of your goal? to smile a tremendously warm smile to cheer him on the bluest day? with "not a cloud in the sky and the sun in my eyes" i've searched. "i won't be surprised if it's a dream."
have you ever been the only one who solved the calculus problem in your class? with much pride you reached the conclusion that you were on the top of the world lookin' down on creation. "and all i need will be mine if you are near." but achievement doesn't stop there . . . it is getting the best looking quarterback in the area . . . an entire day of chorus when everyone was in tune . . . getting letters of acceptance at the college of your choice. every sport in your school goes all the way. these are the things that striving for achievement and perfection is all about. "something in the wind has learned my name and it's because you are near, you're the nearest thing to heaven that i have found." "i'm on the top of the world looking down on creation and the only explanation i can find is the love that i've found ever since you've been around, you're what's put me at the top of the world." THE CARPENTERS Bottom Right: Eric Duncan hopes Mr. Wolfe likes his idea as he puts it on paper.

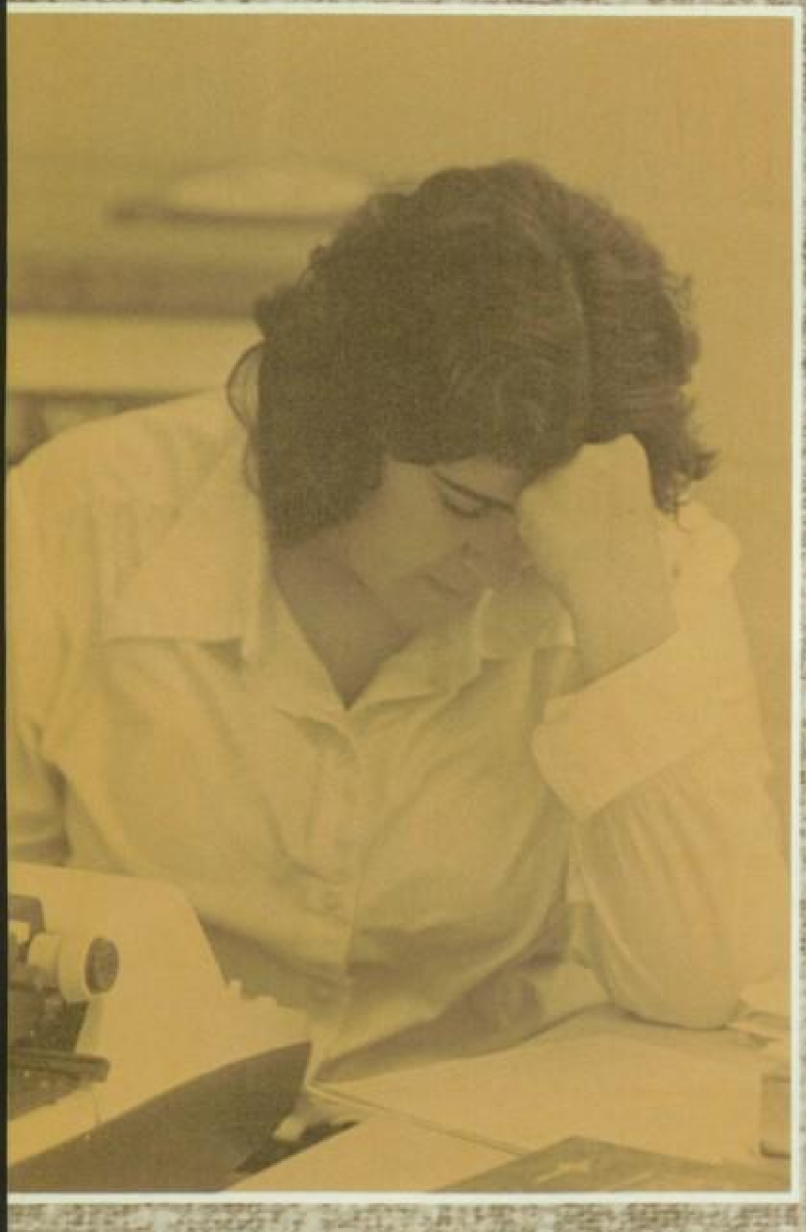
Far Bottom Right: Having heard the ten minute bell, Sandy Powers rushes to get her test done.



ROCKY . . . ANALOGY: PRESSURE . . . WHAT IS MY LIMIT? can i stop and look around me at the world and take life as it comes? or must i fight to stay on top under these critical conditions? can i hide from my guilt when there's no where to go, no one to turn to? can you find a friend in a room filled with strangers? do you remember the way "we held each other close at night and traded dreams each day" or are those just memories filled with sorrow? remember how long it took you to tell her "it's love that sets us free" and that's the type of love you need. "she was shy and had a fear of things she did not know." that's why she never let her emotions show. you, mr. big stuff, "were proud and satisfied that life had so much to give." you've lost your friends and you're no one now. you turn to her for help and realize she's no longer there." all of your support has left you, you're no longer important. you search for an individual who will sympathize with you. "you sleep alone at night again you walk alone each day and sometimes when you're about to give in you hear her sweet voice say," "you've been alone before, you know that you can do it." "you feel the emptiness in your heart when she no longer says, "but if you'd like to lean on me take my hand i'll help you through it."
Just as her words have faded so have the memories of your moments together.
"rocky you know you've been alone before you know that you can do it but if you'd like to lean on me take my hand i'll help you through it" seems like only yesterday i was that self-confident freshman. but i never caught a glimpse "of what was to come i had to turn and face the strong" and become those "itty bitty" sophomores. we were the little guys who are somewhat insecure and the juniors and seniors are "quite aware what we're going through." "so the days flow through my eyes but the days still seem the same" as we became "jolly" juniors. we were neither the little guys or the "all knowing" seniors. "i still don't know what i was waiting for and my time was running wild" and i just lucked out and became a senior. as a senior i found that "everytime i thought i got it made it seemed the taste was not so sweet" so i guess being everything i thought it to be. i learned being a senior meant not telling the sophomores and juniors to "grow up and out of it because they have the right to change too." as a senior, there is alot of pressure on me to decide my life's future. some of us will go to college; others will not. for those of us who continue on it will mean still more changes. i know though that i can only progress because "time may change me but i can't trace time." "changes are taking the pace i'm going through." DAVID BOWIE

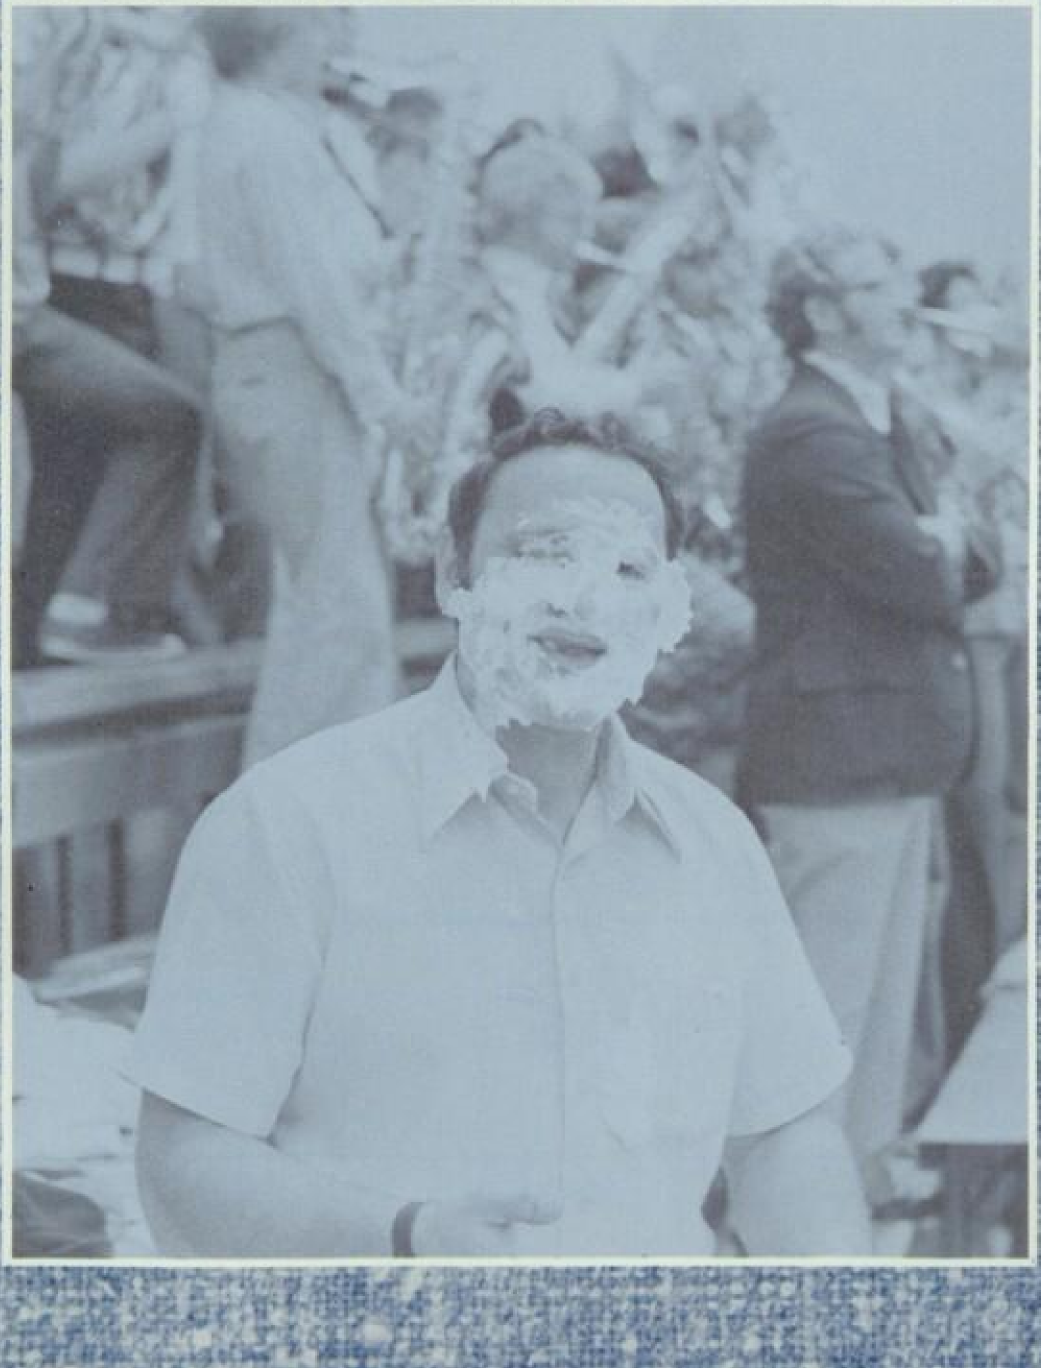
Opposite Bottom: Members of the bachelors living class wait for Mrs. Lechner to yell "Soup's on."



CHANGES . . . ANALOGY: THE CONVERSION FROM JUNIOR HIGH TO HIGH SCHOOL TO COLLEGE: WHAT NEXT?

Bottom Right: One friend helping another.

YOU'VE GOT A FRIEND . . . ANALOGY: FRIENDSHIP . . .
IS THERE ANYTHING WE CAN'T SHARE?

we've come a long way together you and i and we've been through many a trial and many a tribulation, but through it all our friendship has remained intact. you know there is nothing i wouldn't do for you—my friend. "i will be there." no matter what time of day or night . . . coz'—"you've got a friend." we've shared so many experiences and have grown as a result. remember the time . . . you had to use my gym clothes because you forgot yours—again . . . and what about the day that we had a surprise birthday party at our lunch table . . . . . . and the time i did your trig—i didn't mind though. you never really mind doing things for someone you care about. just remember all the times we acted as "guidance counselors"—"when you're down and troubled and you need a helping hand and nothin' is goin' right keep you head together and soon i will be there" because i am your friend and "ain't it good to know?" no situation is too tough for us to face . . . together. we are a team of two. individuals fused and unified as one being. we share and give so much to and of each other and expect so little. yes, "i've got a friend." "you just call out my name and you know wherever i am i'll come runnin' to see you again. winter, spring, summer or fall, all you have to do is call and i'll be there; yes i will, you've got a friend."

Its good to be a seeker
but sooner or later
You have to be a finder
and then it is well
To give what you have found a gift into the world for whoever will accept it.
